

Draft to Lord North
New May 26th 1774

2984

New May 26th 1774

Lord North, Agreeable to your recommendation I have acquainted the Attorney General that when that the Great Seal is into his hands, I mean to accompany it with the Reversion of a Fellowship of the ~~University~~^{Exchequer} and a similar floating Pension to that held by Lord Camden, to take place whenever he quits the Great Seal untill he shall be in possession of the Fellowship; he seemed very sensible of my attention in proposing it myself unto him; I did not chuse to fix any day for his receiving the Seal, as your this day again renewed a wish to be dispensed ^{from} holding your present Employment if I can make any proper arrangement; I will therefore now fully examine whether it be possible to effect any plan that may carry with it a proper appearance, always relying that if I cannot fix on any mode that I can think of advantageous to the Public

Public, You will in that case consent to continue in your present Employment

[The remainder of the document is a faint, illegible handwritten manuscript, likely a letter or official correspondence, written in cursive script.]