My Dear Sir

I begin to fear that while I am destined to remain in this world / of which no miserable Being was ever more weary / that you will never be free from my importunities. — I can scarcely expect your forbearance, when I reflect that I am about to entreat the advance of my next quarter when you favour me with the remaining £30? I have tried every arrangement within my limited power — to avoid making this most unreasonable, and unwarrantable appeal to your kindness; but from the pressure of Christmas Tradesmen — and much very much to impoverish my slender purse, from recent family affliction, I am compelled with a most sorrowful heart, once more to rely on your unequalled kindness - I

My Dear Sir

I am too well convinced of the friendly interest which you have always evinced for my comfort, not to be certain that you will be happy to hear - that by your kind accommodation in advancing my quarterly payments during the last year, I have been enabled to make many most delightfully satisfactory arrangements. I have by your timely assistance and the most rigid observance of economy been enabled to pay off many old debts by small installments, and thereby procured to myself an unspeakable degree of peace of mind. In the manner I am now proceeding - if you will add one more instance to those of true friendship, by suffering, this one year's payments to be forestalled in the same manner I have no hesitation in saying that this will be the last year in which I shall have the painful task of trying the patience of so worthy a friend as I have always found in you.

I cannot sufficiently express how much I shall be accommodated by your favouring me with the present conclude with requesting you to be assured how truly I subscribe myself

Sunday 26th 1815

Lynfield Cottage —

My Dear Sir

Will you believe me, when I assure you that during a stay in London of a few days on very important business — I three times made the attempt to present myself at Somerset House, and had not fatigue to appear on the ground, which compelled my visit! — after your unexampled kindness to me, on so many former occasions — I could not muster sufficient courage to appeal to you personally, and must therefore rely on your most frequently experienced forbearance in the hope that you will be convinced merely alone releases my inordinately my motive for obtaining my vacation and complaints on your precious attention. I must fully explain, or you may justly consider me assuming an exclusive right to torment you, from the repeated forgiveness I have received, for so doing — I need not encumber you well employed time, or patience, with a long detail of many family embarrassments and mental afflictions which the last year has presented. — the former of which have so involved my little income that nothing but a promise of installment payments could have saved me, and my small very small family from ruin! — under these melancholy circumstances — I have by the most binding promises — procured an arrangement which may, by your kindness convert the most miserable state of pecuniary enthrallment, into ^{one} ~~state~~ of comparative happiness, and certain tranquility of mind? — Namely — by your kindly permitting me until next Christmas quarter — to fore-stall my quarterly payments as they come round.

I am not sufficiently clear in my mode of expressing my wishes and will therefore arrange them as follows — The favours I most fearfully solicit is the present advance of my Midsummer quarter; — at Midsummer — that payable at Peck; — and at ~~Midsummer~~ ^{Midwinter} that due at Christmas? — and by this arrangement I may venture to promise that the year shall conclude with the conclusion of your term. — ~~to~~ and enable me to commence a new one with more cheerful feelings — though not with a more lively sense of gratitude than you have already excited in my mind.

 As no apology could ever be sufficient for the repeated favours I have received from you, — I can only entreat you to accept my most earnest wishes for your long

I cannot express the regret, which I feel, in the compliance of breaking a promise which I made, most fully intending to keep. - but from a very unexpected event, I give most truly to say, I must once more, rely on your kindness in advancing me £10 - which will enable me to discharge a very unpleasant, and most truly unavoidable demand? - It would require a Volume to contain my apologies, nor should I were then think them sufficient for so much impropriety as my hard fortune is thus after the instigation of my committing. -

My Dear Sir

I did not imagine that Time when he has so long taught me resignation and humility, had another favour left within his power to bestow! it seems, however that his kindest act was yet reserved, when he interposed his authority in presenting your meditated "lecture". — If in his variety of extraordinary arrangements, — He should ever bring us more nearly acquainted, than through the medium of the general Post Office, I am convinced a better knowledge of my Principles and opinions, will induce you to recall with regret, those harsh accusations, of "imprudence" and "bad Management," which you have, so unlike your self, been pleased to bestow.

I should hope that, to a mind of any feeling, the Minace would equal the Execution of a reproof, — at least, I can answer for

My own. - The satisfaction which your former unwitting attentions conveyed to my heart arose in the secret consciousness of having, by a life of unvaried rectitude, deserved the good opinion of the good; - nor should I reflect without the deepest regret, that the friendship which I have experienced, was the effect of compassion for an unthinking and extravagant woman, not those of consideration for an unworthy Being who has deserved a better fate than she has met with in her journey through life!
Our Mutual Friend, Time, has however been one constant reconciler of events, and by his Magic Powers has blunted many an ill judged arrow which in earlier days when Hope was my flattering companion, I should have rejected with indifference, if not with anger. Yet, with all his kind achievements, ^{He} has not been able to eradicate from my heart the feeling of mortification.
To me, a favour conferred / and however it may appear unthinkingly to you / I have known the delightful feeling of conferring as well as receiving them) the value has Even being heightened by the manner, and not the magnitude of the action. - I must acknowledge to you my Dear Sir that ^{not} ~~above~~ the novelty of reproof - nor the remembrance of desiring it, can efface from my remembrance the united feelings of regret and friendship with which I subscribe myself

My Dear Sir

Allow me to express a thousand thanks for your very kind consideration in forwarding the remittance which I this morning received. The truly friendly solicitude which you have exemplified for my comfort on all occasions - renders it an imperative duty on my part, to make you acquainted with my present proceedings on this subject - Being fully aware of the promptitude with which you have advanced your own Purse - for the relief of my little necessities during these last several quarters - I had fully made up my mind to let the last Christmas release you from your truly kind promise.

Under these circumstances I wrote yesterday to His Royal Highness, through the medium of my Excellent, and kindly Mediator Coll^d Mr Paschou - states the true situation in which I stand, and fully explaining the many drawbacks which a lingering illness of near fourteen months have occurred to reduce my finances and lessen my small income, - by the constant demands of medical attendance - and other expenses attendant upon sickness. - I have requested the kindness of His Royal Highness to advance me £200 - to be deducted by you at £15 p^{er} quarter the first deduction to commence at the Midsummer quarter 1818, if this kind accommodation can be effected I need not say how much my suffering mind will be relieved, and the pleasure I shall feel in exempting you from future annoyance on the subject of my complaints. - In which event you will have the goodness to repay your worthy self this present advance - by my Midsummer quarter. - and believe me when I affirm that great and important as the accommodation ^{has been to me} - it appears trifling to the Magnitude of my Obligations to you

Dear Sir

This morning's Post brought me a very polite letter from a Mr Mansel, who informs me that Col. McMahon is too ill to attend to business of any sort. This has proved a very dreadful disappointment to me, as you may well imagine. Do pray, my very kind friend, point out to me, the most likely channel by which my request may be laid before H. R. H. I am convinced from his uniform goodness towards me, that the affair need only be made known to The Prince, in order to be complied with. I have never yet petitioned His Royal Highness in vain -

Nothing can be more unfortunate than the privation of Col. McMahon's kind mediation of this particular nature, as my necessities are most urgent! Perhaps if you know Sir B. Bloomfield, and would represent the circumstances therein, he may, as your representing me, as not quite unworthy of his interest at least, be kind enough to state it to the Prince and thus you will

The late Miss Robinson has been uniformly paid since 1813 by anticipation, one quarter in Advance. My last remittance of £50. happening to reach her on the point of death (14th Janry), the friend who resided with her, a Miss Weak, has with much propriety, as knowing the sum not to be actually due, hesitated to apply it without authority, though she states it to be necessary for the arrangement of Miss Robinson's concerns. I apprehend you would not wish it to be recalled, as I am assured thro' another channel⁺ that it would occasion much embarrassment in settling the affairs of the deceased.

Dear Sir

Queen's Buildings, Jan^y 16th

It is not the intention of the following topics for a Memorial, to offer any attempt at the Form, but to prumerate certain particulars, as was agreed upon when I had the pleasure of conversing with you on Monday; but my thoughts having unintentionally glanced that way, I transcribe the Topics as they occurred to me.

That the Petitioner after having been honored by being appointed Physician in ordinary to her Royal Highness the Princess of Wales, and in consequence intrusted with the care of her Royal Highness during her confinement at the Birth of the Princess Charlotte, was in continual attendance of the Princess afterwards at Carlton House for upwards of six years; and by the Command of his Royal Highness the Prince Regent, was sometimes called to Blackheath, and once to New and to Windsor Castle; until very sudden ill health compelled him instantly to relinquish a very extensive business, and to retire from town on a very small income; a large family having prevented his laying by even a sufficiency to live upon without the assistance of a few kind Friends; who made the best of his little finances by the purchase of Imperial Annuities; conceiving him very unlikely to survive their date; which however should he live more than two years he will, and thereby sustain an abatement of nearly the half of his small Income. That he is now in his eightieth year; but having mercifully recovered his health, he is still equal to any employment he might be favoured with.

That having been greatly distressed about three years ago, and not having opportunity for seeing his Royal Highness the Prince Regent, he was advised to make application to the Duchy of Cornwall office, where he was thankful for receiving a recompence of £300; but being still needy, and every quarter in debt for the necessaries of life, the Petitioner humbly solicits permission to hope for a small share of ~~the~~ compassion of his Royal Highness the Prince Regent, which from the Petitioner's advanced age would not weary that Benevolence which he was for years a witness of in the Presence of his Royal Highness.

And his Petitioner will be more firmly bound to continue to pray Heaven & Earth

Yours, Dear Sir,

with constant and increased Respect and Esteem,

Your greatly obliged & grateful Friend &c

M. G.

To His Royal Highness the Prince Regent Ye Ye Ye

Permit with your usual Benignity Most illustrious Prince a very aged Widow to recite, that her Husband Walter Lewis served His Majesty in two Wars, in the latter of which American the Hardships he endured by laying on the frozen Ground produced a Mortification in the Back, which though stopped by an Excision of nine Inches of Flesh; he never radically recovered: On the Communication of this Fact by the late General George Hotham your Royal Highness was graciously pleased in 1783 to appoint my departed Husband to an official Situation for the Payment of your Royal Highnesses Household and Tradesmen, the Functions of which he discharged with uninterrupted Approbation under the respective Treasurers General Hotham Henry Lyte Esq^r and General Hulse until your Royal Highness determined that the Office occupied by Arthur Robinson Esq^r Deputy Treasurer sh^d be discontinued; and that your Applicant's Husband sh^d retire with a Pension: This Command was executed as to the Abolition of the Office, but never as to Pension; altho' both were equally enjoined by your Royal Highness Your Memorialist being recently Deprived of her Husband

Husband by the Ravages of a Cancer which literally devoured the right Side of his Face, she most humbly implores your Royal Highness to give Directions for the Succession of her Son and only Protector / Walter William to the present Vacancy of Landing-Waiter / Port of London in the Customs of your Suppliant wd not have presumed to crave so high a Favor, but her Finances are totally inadequate to her Support; from her late Husband being compelled to endure many Privations to maintain the Respectability of two Sons who both died in the Service during late War — Your Royal Highnesses Applicant wd not have ventured notwithstanding to approach your Royal Highness, had not her Husband received a gracious Injunction from His Sovereign to apply to Him whenever his Sons wanted 52 Warren St.

 Fitzroy St
 Nov 4th 30 -

Sir

For long, & various important services His late Majesty George the Fourth, was pleased to grant me in the 10th an annuity of £400 for life, - secured on the Pavilion at Brighton.

Mr. Bicknell drew the Deeds by command of the then Prince Regent, under the direction of the present Master of Rolls & my legal adviser J. W. Fisher Esq^r then at the Bar, - but now a private Gentleman of Heath Lane Trickerham Midd^x.

Mr. Bicknell and the present Lord Bloomfield saw, - and witness'd His Majesty's Execution of the Deed, and the present Sir Fred. Watson & Charles Greenwood Esq^r of Crown Court, - after delivering the Deed to me,

- requested in the name of the then Prince Regent, that I would allow, it to be sealed up by Mr Greenwood, - which was accordingly done, bearing the following words - "Grant of Annuity from H. R. H. the " "Prince Regent to Thos. Gilliland Esq^r dated " "10th of June 1817 - Not to be open'd nor "

"had recourse to without the consent of "
"Charles Greenwood Esq^r - ~~which~~ except in "
"failure of regular payments of Annuity!"
"Mr. Greenwood having placed "

" his seal upon it, in our presence signed Edmund Waters Geo. W. Coateson. "

" their few short facts will I doubt not afford you every means, you wish to satisfy you of the legality of the above Grants to Mr.
 Guenent, can, & will furnish, with any further information that may be necessary for you to require. Sir I am your Obedient Servant Thomas Gilliland.

My dear Sir,

Many thanks for your very kind enquiries during my late sufferings which were very acute. I mean to dine with you, if weather should permit. The bearer of this is Jerry Borrutt - do see him for a moment, and I trust tell him that you will be able to give him a fit out as a Mid in the E. I. Company's service. I am quite satisfied, a word from you to S^r B. Bloomfield, stating the care of the poor orphan, will be your particular interest. I hear the poor lad is well disposed, & has borne a very good character.

I am hard at work in endeavouring to find a ship.
