The Terms and Conditions of Insurance as stated in the Policies, are defined with perspicuity, plainness and precision, so as to prevent the Misunderstandings and Disputes dependant upon ill-digested, unadvised, and ignorant Plans, equally baneful to the Proprietors and those Insuring.

BRITISH FIRE OFFICE

Property insured against Fire.

Lives insured.

Annuities granted.

WESTMINSTER SOCIETY
 For Insurance on Lives & Survivorships & granting Annuities,
 STRAND AND CORNHILL, LONDON,
 THIS Society, instituted for the convenience and accommodation of every class and condition of life, was established in 1792, upon a plan settled after the most mature consideration and approbation of several of the most eminent of His Majesty's Counsel.
 IT EMBRACES TWO OBJECTS OF CONCERN TO THE PUBLIC, VIZ.
 Insurance on Lives and Survivorships and granting Annuities.

Insurance on Lives.
 This object affords the opportunity to provide for the Aged, the Widow and the Fatherless, and to guard against the loss and disappointment of a dependance on the casualty of life. To this end any person, for the annual premium specified in the tables, can secure to his Wife and Children the payment of such a sum of money, as in his judgment will save them from that distress and poverty which his death would otherwise occasion.

Insurance on Survivorships.
 In the case of lives for the renewal of Leases held on Lives, a very beneficial advantage is secured to the parties holding such Leases, by insuring the amount thereof on the Life or Lives of the person or persons, at whose death such Leases are payable.

The purchase money for Life Interests or Annuities may be secured by insuring the Life of the party in whom the same depend, or by any other situation, by which they possess only Income for Life, or may secure a reversion of a stipulated amount in money to their Widows or Families.

Persons holding employments in public Offices, depending either on the Lives of themselves or others, may, by the modes adopted in this Office, be secured from loss in case of the death of the party on whose Life the same may be held.

Any person not possessed of an independent property before marriage, may, by insuring his Life, be enabled to make such settlement on his intended wife, as shall be deemed requisite.

Among the various benefits this Office affords, none, perhaps, may be greater, than the opportunity it gives for satisfying creditors, where the ability of the debtor to discharge their claims depends on the continuance of the life.—This may be accomplished by securing, through annual payments on a Life Insurance, a sum to be paid at the death of the debtor; failure in trade may by this be prevented, and arrangements made in consequence equal to what would be the case if the debtor were dead.

N. B. Any person having insured his Life at this Office, may, by will, dispose of the property to arise therefrom, in his own personal estate.

Granting Annuities.
 Affords a resource against Old Age, Sickness, bodily Infirmary, and other casualties of Life. In obtaining provisions of this nature from individuals, exclusive of the difficulty which persons find of purchasing Annuities upon their own Lives, and to the exact amount desired, they are oftentimes put to great inconvenience by insufficient security, irregular payments, and the non-observance of some of the many minute regulations which the law requires in transactions of Life Annuities.—These occurrences, particularly the latter, are so common, that such Annuities are either NOT REALIZED, or in continual danger of being set aside.

Among the various classes of the community, a great number of persons are desirous of augmenting their annual income, by purchasing Annuities for their own use, or increasing the income of their relations at some future given period, or securing an allowance made to some dependant; or exchanging their own income for the income of a life estate.—All these objects may be effectually accomplished at this Office, on the most liberal principles, and with every facility and accommodation the parties can desire.

The following Modes, (among others) occur for effecting these purposes:
 1st. The grant of an Annuity on the Life of One Person to commence immediately.—2dly. On the Life of Two Persons to commence immediately, and to continue either wholly or in part during the Life of the Survivor, or to cease upon the Death of either.—3dly. On the Lives of Jointants, to commence at any period, either at the time of agreeing for the Annuity, or at any future period; to continue for any number of years, or for any certain number of years, in case the life shall so long exist.—4thly. On the Lives of Jointants, for any certain number of years, in case the life shall so long exist.—5thly. A principal sum at the time of purchase, for such as are immediately paid for such as are prospective either by the means, or the payment of a sum annually.

By one or both of the objects embraced by this Office, every pecuniary provision may be made either for the party personally, or for his Widow, Children, or Dependants; and become the means for Marriage Settlements.
 The Rates being subject to variation from fluctuation in the value of money, are not printed.—The terms can therefore only be known by application at the Office.
 At present, the sum of 100*l.* will purchase— 2*l.* per Ann. for a person of the full age of 50, 10 00 00 50, 15 00 00 60, 20 00 00 70, 25 00 00 80, 30 00 00 90, 35 00 00 100.
 Repayable half-yearly; but if paid yearly only, 30 will be entitled to 2*l.* 5*s.* and 60 to 10*l.* 5*s.*

1st. Annual Premium to insure £.100 on the Life of a Person in Civil Employ in Europe, but not upon the Seas, (except in His Majesty's Packets passing between Great Britain and Ireland.)

THE Managers of the Sun Fire Office taking into consideration the very great advance which has taken place in the price of every kind of building materials, feel it a duty they owe their friends, whose Policies are of long standing, to remind them of the considerable loss they would sustain in case of Fire, by their buildings being under valued, and to inform those persons who may be inclined to increase their present insurance, that no charge will be made for the Policy where the sum amounts to 300 l. or upwards.

N. B.—The Sun Fire Office having at their sole expence, and unconnected with any other Office, established a fire night patrol, for the purpose of preventing fires, and giving the earliest assistance whenever this happens,

The public is hereby informed that the stands for the patrol-men are situated as underneath; where the public are requested to give the earliest information in case of accident.

Jan^y the 6th. 1817.

Sir,

His Royal Highness the Prince Regent having graciously signified his Commands, that I should make an Estimate of the Value of his private Collection of Pictures for the purpose of its being insured, I have endeavor'd carefully to execute the Task confided to me, and the sum which it appears to me should be the amount of the Policies, is £58000—

I shall hereafter explain to you the particular circumstances, under which this valuation has been made - The ^{great} spirit and confidence that I have deriv'd from the superior subtilty of my Friend Mr Alley, and the service render'd to us by the attendance of Mr Bryan, whose known experience in the sale of Works of Art, as well as knowledge of the Masters, has contributed very much to the general accuracy of our Estimate.

In obedience however to His Royal Highness the Prince Regent's express'd Wish & Command, that the amount of the Summ should not be equal to the intrinsic merit of the Works, and their probable value at public sale, I again beg leave to propose that the sum of £58000 be the extent of the Insurance - a sum considerably below the Estimate that we have made.

I cannot conclude my Letter, without expressing my sense of the obliging & useful attention of Mr. Jackson, during the whole of our Attendance. I have the Honour to be

The Right Hon^{ble}
