do do do

My Dear Sir

I regret exceedingly that so much progress has been made in the Stands, that full two thirds of the expence has been already incurred, the walls will be ready to put on the Roof on Wednesday, which is a flat formed of Iron joists and arches and are all ready to put up - the Stone Columns are made, the sashes, frames, flooring boards and doors are all made, and the Stone Steps are got out - when you consider that the whole must be fit for occupation by the Races, which are the first week of June, you will easily perceive the exertion I have been obliged to make to accomplish His Majesty's wishes -

I never had occasion to make greater and gladly would have avoided it, but I was so pressed by Genl. Bloomfield that I had no alternative, but I took every precaution to avoid blame - I at the desire of Genl. Bloomfield presented the plan to the Master of the Horse to lay before the King accompanied with an Estimate £773. - - - in which I distinctly stated that the Rents of the Park (no longer required for Brighton) might be applied to that purpose - There is a large area which must be filled up in the event of the work being stopped, as it will be otherwise dangerous when the Course is thronged with people - and the materials must be carried back to Windsor -

With regard to the work being undertaken by the Office of Works, it does not belong to that department - the Office of Woods & Forests most certainly ought to defray this expense; the Race ground being by the enclosure act made part of the Royal property under the management of that office, and the King being compelled to keep it as a Race course - If this were properly stated, the Treasury would most likely direct the payment of it -

I send you the plan as delivered to the Duke of Dorset on the back of it appears to be written in pencil the King's commands (perhaps by the King himself) - I send you also Genl Bloomfield's Letter which accompanied it, by which you will see that the enclosure of the ground is additional, but may be done another year - I should advise that the Stand be completed, and in the mean time a requisition to be made to the Treasury on the ground before mentioned, which I will draw up in official form if you think it right -

Ever my Dear Sir
Faithfully Yours

The King continues his determination not to allow the Expence of the new Stand at Ascot to be charged ag^t. his private funds.

= This written in consequence of Sir Wm Knighton's communication last night of His Majesty's pleasure respecting payment.

My Dear Sir

In answer to your Letter of this day - I transmit herewith the heads on which I conceive that the expense of the stound should be defray'd by the Woods and Forests, heretofore these Communi= cations have been made to the Treasury by Gen^e Blomfield by command of the King - but having understood from Mr Picknell that our (the Comm^{rs} for managers wood or park) report on the new Enrolment & future regulation of the Parks - delivered to the Lords of the Treasury though actually signed by the King were objected to as not conveyed through a proper Channel. I am apprehensive that in the present instance the communication should be made directly from the King to Lord Liverpool in the mean time I have not (as arranged with you on Saturday) stopped the workmen and have ascertained that the work is all actually ready and requires only finishing - this you may readily conceive when it is to be occupied by the 4th of June (not 6 weeks) & that to accomplish in the roof must be on this week However the moment I receive your further instructions for that purpose I will go down and order the workmen to stop

I am Very D^d Sir

When Sir B. Bloomfield was Keeper of the Privy Purse, he upon two occasions advanced to Mr. Solleff one hundred Pounds at each time in consequence of his not being in possession of the Emoluments arising from the Situation of a Pay Master in the Duchy of Cornwall. I believe you are aware that the Hon. Geo. Germain

has been appointed Deputy Master in trust for Mrs Sollice, & he on the part of this Lady, is very desirous of escaping to the Privy Purse the sum of Two hundred Pounds which she had received.

Sir Wm Knighton to whom I mentioned the subject has informed me that the money ought to be paid to you.

I have therefore to request that you will enable me to let you that Mr. Germain know how he shall transmit the money to you, & you will further oblige me by giving Information as to the proper mode of receiving the Salary of Deputy Master.

I shall be very much obliged to you if you will write me such an answer as I may send to Mr. Germain, & as I leave London Tomorrow, I should be very glad if you could favor me with the letter

Mr. Carpenter was appointed Deputy Receiver to Mr. Sheridan on 8th Sept. 1809.

In his first Account with the Receiver General he claims the Sum of £10-12-6

It does not appear that this Sum, or any part of it, was dis-allowed.

passed on the subject, as, in the he claims £100 only for the year's in your note of last night.

I shall think of it; at any

10. Lower James Street, Golden Square

Sir

Emboldened by your former condescension & kindness and by the compassionate feeling evinced for my misfortune in the loss of my situation in the Duchy of Cornwall, I presume again most respectfully to solicit your kind influence and charitable excursions in my behalf. Since the unhappy period of my dismissal from the Duchy (nearly two years) I have with my Family (now consisting of a Wife and 4 Children, the eldest only Six Years of Age) endured the severest hardships and privations, and, with the exception of a few Months temporary engagement, been wholly unemployed and wanting means for their necessary provision. My Mind, Sir, as you may naturally suppose, has suffered a martyrdom of anxiety and distress and in this melancholy and heart breaking situation am I at present, all my exertions to procure employ proving fruitless and having nothing, saving such trifling assistance as our Relatives can afford from their limited means, to support us. However great my error may have been Sir (Heaven knows it originated not in natural depravity of heart or in an innate propensity to crime) my sufferings will I trust be charitably considered as having in some degree atoned for

for it - and if, under this consideration, pardon and forgiveness can in mercy be extended towards me, my gratitude will be as fervent as my contrition is sincere. On you Sir rest my most sanguine hopes - The circumstance of my having filled my late situation during Fifteen Years - and that, to the satisfaction of my most respected Superior Mr Gray, (until the period when I unguidedly fell into the fatal vortex of my ruin, as many more experienced Hobbes Men had done before me,) will I trust plead for me and induce you Sir to represent my melancholy situation to that high authority whose well known gracious and merciful disposition is ever alive to the distresses of the unfortunate in error - Supported by your powerful interest I despair not of gaining His Majesty's most gracious pardon and of being restored to some permanent employ where my exertions to merit the same shall be unremitting and where experience of the past shall be the beacon to warn me from again erring from the conscientious path of rectitude.
By thus benevolently advocating my cause Sir - you will bind an unhappy family in obligation for ever and I doubt not be the means of raising us from our present state of misery and despair to a comparative state of comfort and happiness - My wife who on a former occasion had the honour of waiting on You and experienced your kind assurances of pity and regret for our misfortunes, will again attend you herewith and gratefully receive such advice and instructions as in your kindness and judgment you may be pleased to give

I have the honour to be
