I think it right to apprise your Majesty that Lord North held yesterday in the House of Commons much firmer Language with respect to America than I have known him, & Lord J. Germain spoke with more Spirit & more like a Minister than usual, so that the Cause of Government wore a better Face than it has done for some time & it is clear that what your Majesty thought proper to write & say, had its Effect. I presume to suppose that your Majesty would like to be informed of this.
