

Ld. North

Sat. June 19 1779

3391

Lord North has the honour of transmitting to his Majesty a Draft of the Speech adopted to the present circumstances of the Country, but he is afraid that the Parliament can not be proposed tomorrow, as the opponents here it in their power to prevent it by opposing the 1688 Lord Advocate writ. It will be intrinsically ^{Majesty's} injurious, & force to prorogue the Parliament on Sunday, if it is thought right, but as the Chancellor started some doubts yesterday, Lord North wishes to see him, before he absolutely deter-relates to the Advocate, Mr.

Andrew Stuart, & Mr Gyllson.
The latter is the Atty General's friend. The reasons for the former are obvious.

Ld North returns his most grateful & dutiful expressions to his Majesty for his very gracious expressions contained in the notes he has received from his Majesty. He will, if his Majesty commands, ^{it} serve in office till his Majesty can replace him without inconvenience, but he is bound in duty to acquaint his Majesty that he grows ^{sensibly} every day less equal to his situation. He is sorry to say that he feels his health & spirits declining
