My dearest Son. I have undertaken to write in the room of one of Your Sisters who are employed in sitting for their Pictures the whole Morning by which means they are prevented to save the Post.

I will begin with informing You that I have received from Lady Newhaven the two Papers concerning ~~the~~ the Orders & regulations of Your Nursery, & as Sr Henry is desirous of having them returned, Elizabeth is to Copy them, & at Your return You may compare Hers with the Originals as Nothing can be better than they are & if following strictly all must go on well. — I have also mentioned to the King that Lady Euston had applied to You to succeed Lady Willoughby, & that You had refused it. He made no Answer, & I believe is quite indifferent about Her.

The Accounts from France are I believe not joyful so peaceable as some have thought in this Country particulars I know not for You know the King is not very Communicative, The World in general talks much of an invasion, & I understand Private & public Accounts agree that Preparations for that are making at Dunbar, & though it is not mentioned in the House, I do notwithstanding that I never believe there is some Truth in the Report. Should it prove True I am sure the Enemy will meet with a Reception they deserve & Old England will always get the better of them. Lord Malmsbury has not seen Delamoy for as the Spaniards seem inclined for War with England Lord M. does not wish to see him. in the Private Letters Lord M. says that He never appears in Public but upon Conferences, which is not so ill judged for should it come to Nothing the acquaintances which are to be made at Present I say to You, made at Present can not be very creditable. All this I say to You, & though You may perhaps already know more than I have told, You will be so good as not to blame me.

Mr Dals I understand by a Letter just come from London was given over last Night. I pity His Daughters in particular as they must feel the Loss the most, for their Fortunes are very small.

Every body here is in good Health, Augusta was Confined for two Days with a Febrish Cold but she will be well enough to go to Town with Us on Wednesday. I hope You are better than You were when You left Us, & that You are able to enjoy the Beauty of Your Place, You are not far here, we talk & think daily of You but none can remember You with equal Pleasure than
