

The Queen to
The Prince of Wales
11th Sept. 1797.

AA

GEO/main 36485

My Dearest Son. This is the first moment thanks to a most Violent Storm I have been able to find forthanf You for the Fine Game. it was Delicious & the first we have had & to make use of a German expression. I eat Your Head. Nothing New has happened since You left this Place, excepting a very fine Breakfast at the Japantoy Camp given by Edy Pitt where she did the Honours in Habit d'Amazons extremely well. Our Ball went off with great Spirit, it began at Nine & finished a little after four a Clock. Since that we have Visited the Dames, & M^r Brown at Frompton to see another German Pavement. Edy Pitt was of the first Party & when we meet I tell You what she did to Amuse us, which indeed she is ever ready to do when in Her Power. This Week was intended for Sailing Chiefly, but I believe ⁱⁿ that Amusement ~~that~~ we shall be Disappointed for at Present it blows a Hurricane & should the Wind Folly there must remain a Swell in the Sea which may probably last several Days. General Gwynn brings but indifferent accounts of the Dutches of York how I grieve

Her, for I fear that Her Complaint increases upon Her.
I hope You found little dear Charlotte well. I long to see at my return to London how she is improved, but still more to see You & to assure You by word of Mouth how sensibly I am Weymouth.

The 11th Sep^r 1799

Your very affectionate Mother & Sincere Friend.

1799.

Charlotte

6.