My dearest Land Again are my Hopes & wishes frustrated in passing this Day in your company but the Absent You are notwithstanding Present both in my Mind & Heart. The latter cannot but wish You well at all Times, & feels always happy to seize every opportunity of renewing to You the most sincere & Affectionate assurances of my unceasing love & attachment. Even upon this ^{Day} I shall add no more, for in that, I should do Injustice to myself, as every Day & every Second of the Year I am unalterable in those Sentiments.
I trust that You put Confidence in what I say. One wish ^{more} however You will allow me not to suppress which is that You may see many happy returns of this Day with every ^{attended} Blessing possible this World can procure to which none would feel more happy to contribute than

My dearest Son your ever Affectionate Mother & Friend Charlotte

Edward has kindly undertaken to be the bearer of a trifling Present which accompanies this. I am, Sir, your obedient servant
