I beg'd your Royal Highness's command, & deliver'd the letter to His Majesty. Nothing particular past, except of your R. H. Family, & the extent to which it has gone. I took the opportunity of shewing your Letter to me of the 6th instant, which his M. read. The S^r as usual did not open your R. H. Letter to him. It was late before I could go into the Closet, & I was not kept long. I have the honor to remain Sir
