My Lord

See 1790

If you had chances to be discharged at nine or ten or nine tomorrow I will have breakfast ready for you In case of hours being obliged to leave London you offer I had sought to apologise to you for troubling you so frequently but I will wait upon you if you can not come to a house as when I visit to pay to you is of no small consequence

Yours &c.
