

R. Admiral John Macbride to Capt. Payne.

My Dear Payne

You know the battle I fought at Plymouth & the mistake by which I lost it, after all the persecution & as Gardner is now gone abroad I take it for granted he will vacate, as yet it would not be convenient to stand another contest; as I matter is now stand where is the occasion, his Royal Highness has only to signify his wish, as his Man, that I may not be opposed - if they do not approve, however inconvenient; if it is his Royal Highness's pleasure

John Macbride
