

Richard W. S. Col. McKeahon Aug. 28 1804

40273-4

My dear Colonel! Had I received your letter two hours ago, I could have ascertained the fact you enquire after as the Chamberlain was with me this morning more than an hour on business - We had but little conversation on those matters which you and I feel so anxiously about as far as they regard your most excellent Royal Master whose best advisers (between you & me) will be found to be Men who have been consistent in their political Principles & Attachments & whose sole aim has not been Place & personal Considerations, but Men acting for the public good - not a Man who can one day

R. be a dog of the next Whig who can as readily support Pitt as Mr. Fox has easily desert both & take a place, who can pretend to be the People's friend & yet their fiercest foe - I beg pardon for this depression but I have so affectionate & dutiful an attachment to the Prince that I should be sorry to see him made an instrument by any man to answer his own corrupt purposes. -

Yours truly
John Jayden Col.

very yours
Rich. Wilson

Am. Sarfield
Sept. 28. 1792

Richard Hill to Col. McKeath Aug. 28 1804

40274

Would you of the same kind as we had at Mary can be acceptable to the King - a Spanish bear if possible is now in town on a pack
when he wishes it: R.H.

4334

Richd Wilson

Aug 10th 1804

of date at end of letter

[Faint, mostly illegible cursive handwriting on aged paper]