I trust Lord North will be very careful what answer he gives to any Messages from Lord G. Gordon, indeed Silence seems to be the proper rule of conduct on the occasion; I shall at least follow that mode on the Application for publishing his four Conversations, certainly Lord G. Gordon in his conversations with me stated nothing that can exculpate him, he said if the restrictions on the Roman Catholics taken off by Parliament were not repealed that the Petitioners would be free right themselves. He after that calls the meeting in St. George's fields and heads them this does not clear but in reality add to his Guilt.
