Mr Percival presents his humble duty, to His Royal Highness The Prince of Wales, and having just received a comparative account of the Impats into Great Britain and the Exports from the same, for the three Quarters ending on the 10 of Oct in the years 1807. 1808 & 1809 — He ventures to enclose an extract of it for His Royal Highness's perusal. Mr Percival trusts that it will appear to His R. Highness to exhibit an increase in the Commerce of the Country, at once so surprising and satisfactory, as may ~~justify~~ justify Mr Percival in taking a liberty, which otherwise might appear presumptuous & impertinent —
