I did not fail to deliver to the Prince of Wales the letter which you <sup>did with the honours to</sup> ~~sent~~ <sup>sent</sup> under cover to me for His Royal Highness.

In consequence of the evidence brought by the Earl of Moira before the House of Lords, a specific pledge was given by Lord Redcliffe to introduce Bills this Session to prevent abuses in

I think all the particulars which you have stated: And I say <sup>in some that</sup> our true apart that <sup>the genuine feelings of His</sup> the lively interest which the Prince of Wales <sup>always</sup> takes in the Cause of every British Subject, would make His Royal Highness rejoice at any provis-ions calculated to preclude unnecessary hardships in the line to which you have referred, ~~and to afford them~~ every <sup>possible</sup> Constitutional relief.
