I am glad to find by Lord North's letter that the East India business has been now set on its legs & hope from the ability of those put into the Committee that there will be diligence and dispatch, for the sooner the affair can be brought to a termination the better.

I have just received the authentic Account of the Death of the good Bishop of Winchester Lord North will therefore without loss of time send to the Bishops of Worcester & Litchfield the further arrangements must be concerted with the Archbishop of Canterbury.
