

Lord North

Feb. 27 1782

4479

Lord North has the honour of informing his Majesty, with the utmost concern, that Mr Conway's Motion has been carried by a Majority of <sup>nineteen</sup> ~~eighteen~~
The Lord Advocate, The Attorney & Solicitor General assisted Lord North very zealously in opposing it: but the turn & the temper of the House was so strong that nothing could resist it. Mr Conway afterwards moved to carry up the resolution to his Majesty by an address attended by the whole House, & will come up to ~~your~~ Majesty on the day that it is thought proper to appoint.

Charges for the Metrics. . . . . 9.34.

Lord North submits to his Majesty's con-sideration, that as the House of Commons seems now to have withdrawn their con-fidence from Lord North, it will be right to see, as soon as possible what other system can be formed. Perhaps, in this moment, it may be feasible to divide the opposition & to settle in only a part. but some steps of that sort appears to lead North almost absolutely sweeping
