Dear Sir,

Yours of this day

"Most Private and Confidential" has just reached me and is indeed a lamentable account of our beloved and suffering Sovereign. The sickness that has in-tended to a certain degree and the consequent want of amusement with the loss of power to bear up against the Malady in the King must make you my worthy friend so sincerely attached to His Majesty by more than usual anxious respecting the state of our beloved Charter and Monarch.
I remain,

Dear Sir;

Yours truly

J. P. Nichol
