

R. of Shelburne
Brookly Square May 13. 1782. 16th 3.
Gk.

4741

Sir

[wanting]

I receiv'd the Inctos'd Letter last night from Lord Rockingham, and have been at his Lordships House from twelve o'clock till this mo-ment.

The Irish Business is further adjourn'd till to morrow Evening.

It appears that there are a number of applications in favour of Luke Ryan. It was argued that if he were pardon'd it would be unjust to condemn the other men with equal Pretensions to Mercy - and Lord Kepple insisted upon the hardship in such case of condemning the Mutineers - Upon the whole it was agreed to submit it to your Majesty as the humble desire of the Cabinet that the whole might be reported for ten days, with a view of examining further into the several cases, understanding always that at least one of the Mutineers should in all events be executed for the example.

4741 (2)

I defer troubling your Majesty upon the Temper Lord Rockingham discovers in his Letter, till I have the honour of attending your Majesty. I have the Honour to be with the highest Respect

Your Majesty's

most Dutyfull

Subject & Faithfull

Service

Berkley Square

13 May 1702

$\frac{3}{4}$ past 3 P.M.

Sheburne