

Tuesday 28

49154

? 1816

London

My Dear Father

Mr. Mansfield's letter less than instant than he is, & it is quite impossible for me to ^{to you} ~~do~~ what I feel in consequence of the contents.

I was much more alarm'd when first glancing my eye over it, but when I became calmer & to be allow'd of they better understand standing it, you may more easily conceive than I ^{can} ~~do~~ the importance of the Providence for these ^{& protecting} ~~shutting~~ ^{you} from the opinion board — I have no ^{more} — volume, & edit'd by this ~~letter~~ intelligence that it is quite out of my power to write you a longer or a more collected letter but it is our best intention to be in Town early tomorrow on business I wish the prospect of seeing you where we shall battle for equal to 4 weeks to be the same we feel there would

God bless you
My Dear Father
Ever
Yours affly
Eliza
