New, Nov. 22^d 1804.

The King, encloses to the Lord Chancellor His Instructions as to the Language he is if The Prince of Wales is in Town to hold to Him on the Subject of His Majesty's Grand Daughter or if absent which the Lord Chancellor is to write in the King's Name to the Prince of Wales. His Majesty trusts He has stated the whole in so clear and concise a Manner that farther Explanation from Him cannot be necessary.
