

[? Date]

49527

A) When he shall have reason to think that his Majesty has been duly
When accurately informed of the Prince's sentiments the grounds upon which such a communication proposes to proceed.

B) a paper wholly grounded on a statement of a wish sentiments on the Prince's

C) part of ~~the paper~~ ^{C+} ~~has been once been distinctly expre-~~ sion.
sion. And it is only for the purpose that a full distinct statement of securing ~~a distinct explanation~~ ^{explanations} of those sentiments shall now be made that the Prince has thought it necessary to take this course.

C+ which if ever express'd to the extent asseamed (the Prince having no copy of Lord Moira's letter) subsequent explanations & even those accompanying that letter, must have shewn to warrant a very different conclusion from that which has been drawn from it.

1820

[Faint, mostly illegible handwritten text in cursive script, possibly a letter or document fragment.]