[Enclosure]

49551-2

The King has not thought it necessary, previous to his Return to Windsor, to take any further Steps for fixing the Residence of his Grand-Daughter, as the Apartment is not yet entirely prepared for her Reception. It has been his Majesty's earnest wish from the beginning in superintending and directing her Education to act in entire concurrence with the wishes of her Father: and it was in full conformity to this Principle that he directed a proper Place to be prepared at Windsor for her Residence, except at such Times, as she might occasionally visit either of her Parents.

Having since heard that The Prince is desirous that she should remain under his Roof during the Time of his usual Residence in Town, and that she should remain with His Majesty in the Summer (except during the Time of occasional Visits) His Majesty is disposed to concur in that Proposal: and is desirous to fix the Period of her Residence at Windsor from June to January, and is willing that she shall reside at Carlton House the remaining Months of the Year: and His Majesty would not be desirous of making any Alteration in this this Arrangement, unless it should appear to him to become detrimental to the Execution of the Plan, proposed for the Education of The Prince, in which His Majesty can never cease to take the strongest Interest, both from personal Affection, & from what he feels to be due to the future Welfare of his Subjects.
