

Draft to L. of Shelburne
Windsor Oct. 19th 1752. ^{on} 7th P.M.

5008

Lord Shelburne will I am convinced very easily discern on conversing with the Gen. Conway that the idea of recalling Sir Guy Carleton arose entirely from the L. of Richmond and as such implicitly adopted by King; I rather think the push for M^{rs}. Dalrymple comes from the same quarter. I hope therefore Ld. Shelburne will have a conversation with the General and make M^{rs}. Grey go second in Command to Carleton; it is probable that the troops were already ordered for him before the latter now communicates arrived so that protection will soon be found there.

Windsor
Oct 19th 1752.
on 7th P.M.
22

[Faint, illegible handwritten text in cursive script, possibly a letter or document fragment.]

[Handwritten mark or signature.]