

Prince of Wales to Landgravine of Hesse-Cassel

[probably Feb. 1759]

Madam

I little thought the letter I intended to send by the Baron de Hardenberg was to be fill'd with condolence & sorrow; but the great loss we have all sustain'd & You in particular, leaves me at present no other part, but to join in Your affliction, & to assure You how sincerely I sympathize in this & every other event that can in the least afflict You. I subscribe myself

Madam

Your Most affectionate Nephew

George C.
