

p. J. Fortescue

D. of Grafton

Grosvenor Square. March 7th 1767.
on past 9. A.M.

614

The Duke of Grafton begs to lay himself at his Majesty's feet with the most thorough sense of the King's great condescension & Goodness in the communication of the Note sent to Gen: Conway, so properly calculated to have every effect the most to be desired; & which the proof of opposition yesterday not daring to divide will help to carry forward.

Grosvenor Square March 7th 1767 9 o'clock A.M.

