

Nov. 23. 1788

His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales having asked the physicians whether there be any impropriety in removing his Majesty from Windsor to Stew, they beg leave to answer that in their opinion there is not only no impropriety in removing His Majesty to Stew but that it is advisable.

J. Warren

G. Baker

L. Pepys

J. Reynolds

MS. 16. 1. 1. 1

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales
By which I desire to have the King ordered to keep

Nov. 23. 1700.

Windsor Castle Nov: 25th 1788

It is the opinion of his Majesty's Physicians that his Majesty should only have two persons with him, that those two persons should stay with his Majesty for two hours, and then be ~~received~~ received by two others, that these two persons should inform his Majesty that they are ordered by his Physicians, to remain in the room, to admit no other persons or go with any message.

It is directed by his Majesty's Physicians that the attendants should take particular care that his Majesty does not go out of his Bedchamber and room adjoining.

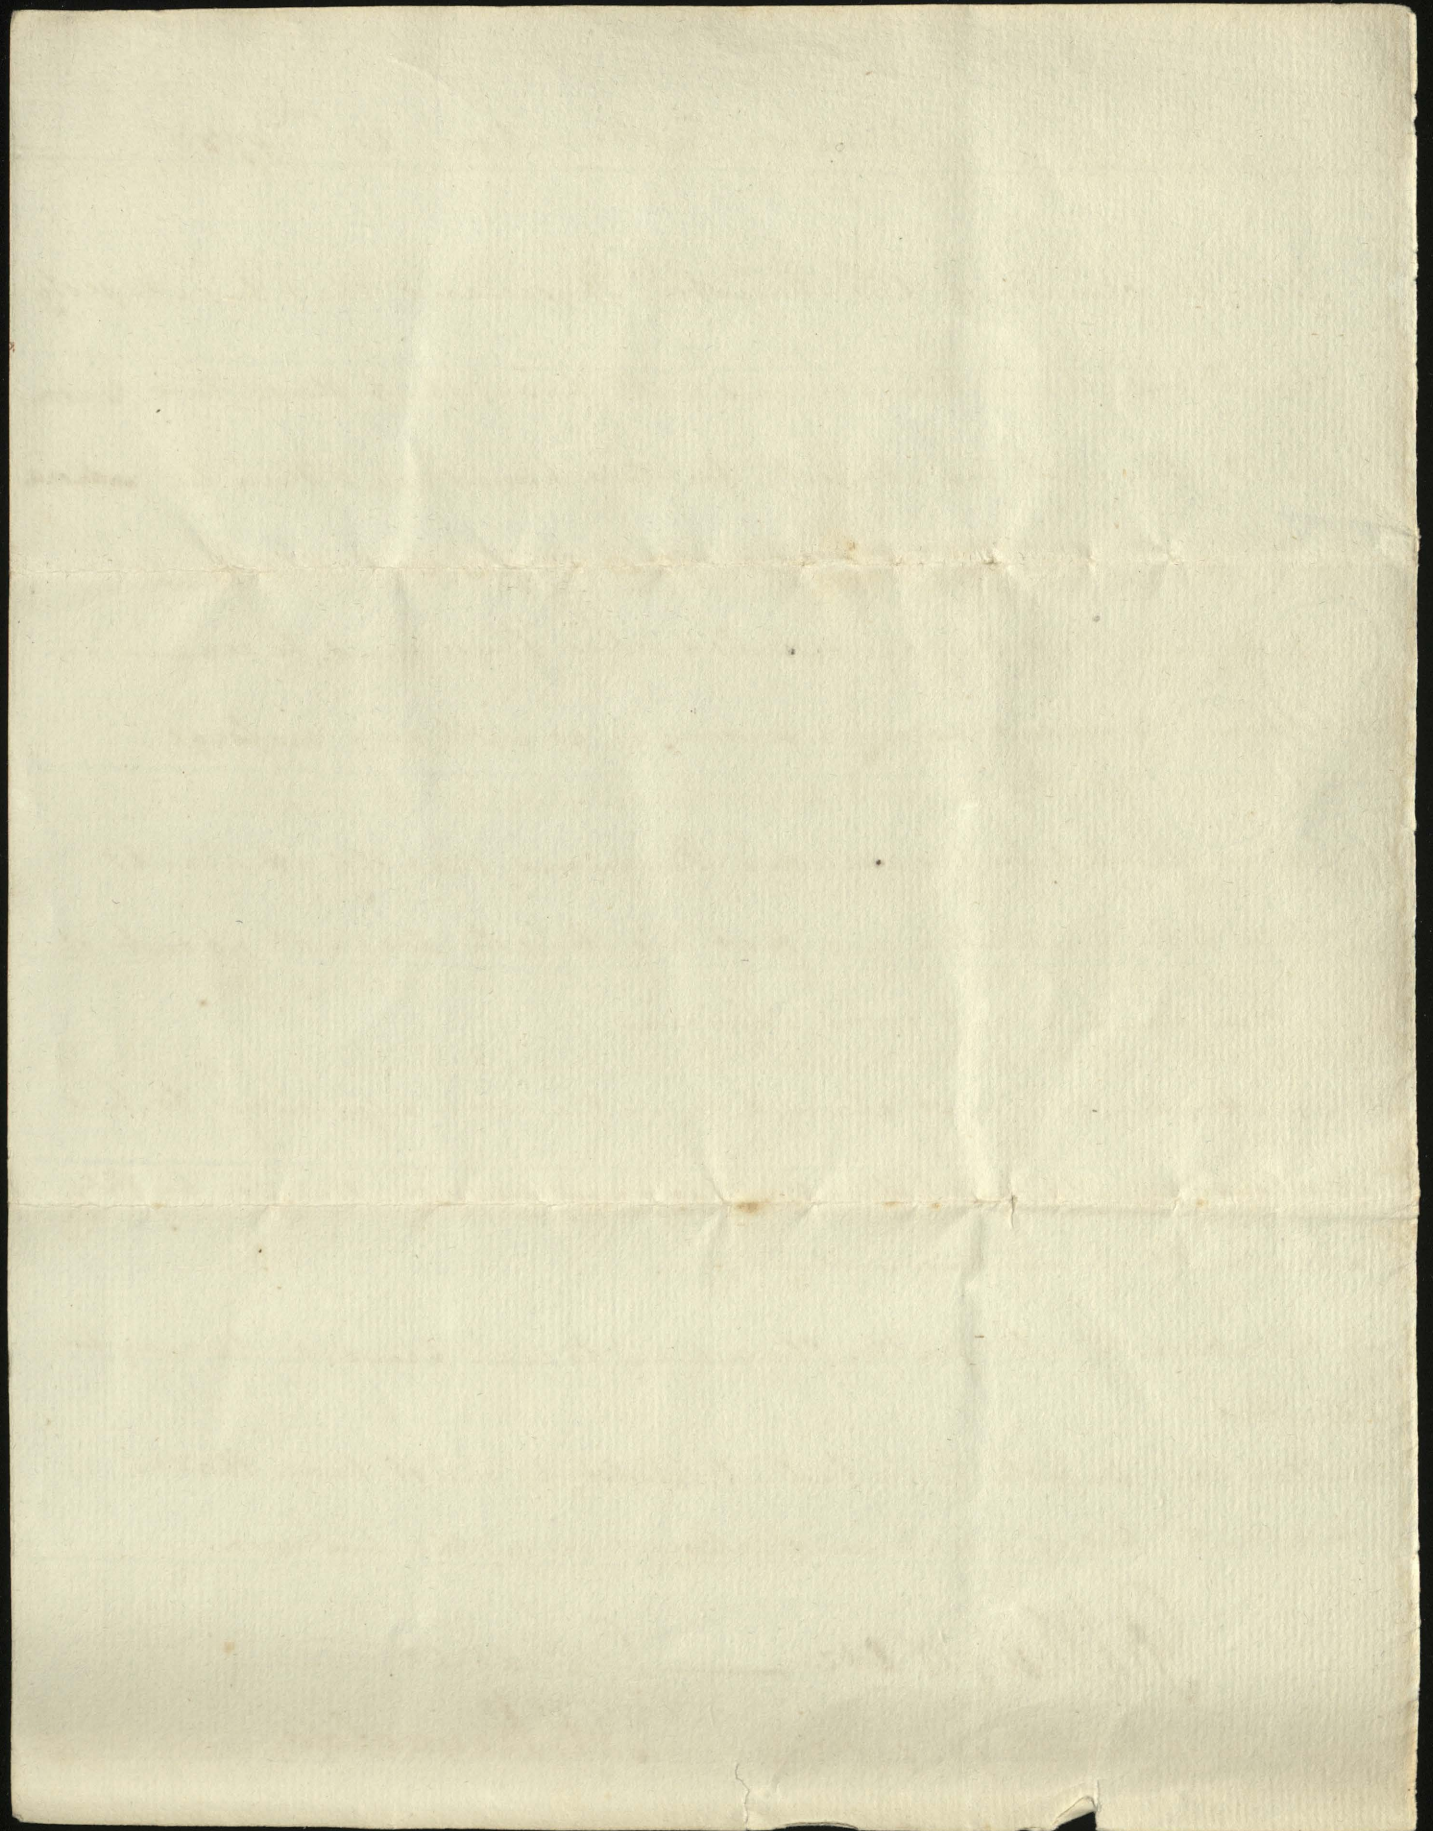

Other attendants must always be in the room adjoining to his Majesty's apartment, but are not to go in unless called for by the attendants in waiting within.

If his Majesty calls for the Clergyman to read prayers, he may be admitted.

Whilst his Majesty is in bed at night, he must have three attendants, two of which must always be in the bed room.

J. Warner — E. Baker —

L. Pepys — J. Reynolds

at His Royal Highness the Duke of York's Apartment

Windsor Castle Nov^r. 27th 1788

It is the opinion of his Majesty's Physicians that it is highly expedient to remove his Majesty from Windsor to New House, because,

Change of Place and objects is likely to facilitate his recovery, and because at New he can have that air and exercise which we think necessary for his Majesty's cure, and which he can not have at Windsor.

R Warren

J Baker

L. Pepys

A. Addington.

J R Reynolds

Queens Lodge - Windsor
Nov: 29th - 1788

It is The Opinion of His Majesty's Physicians that His Majesty should not be permitted to go out of the Three Rooms assigned for his Apartment at Kew - -

That His Majesty may have Two Equerries with him this Evening till he goes to Bed.

That The Pages may be in the Room adjoining while the Equerries are with The King, or in the Room with the King if the Equerries think it necessary. -

That when the Equerries leave His Majesty the Pages are to attend as they have done for the two last days.

That His Majesty is to take the Draught prescribed to Day once in Six Hours

R Warden
G Baker
L. Pepys
J. Keynotes.

Carlton House
Dec. 17. 1798

Dr Warren did himself the honour of writing upon the R. H.
the Prince of Wales at his return from New —

His Majesty became very unquiet at seven last night, had no sleep during the whole night & was confined by Dr Wallis early this morning — Dr Warren released His Majesty from this confinement at ten o'clock — the Dr left His Majesty eating his breakfast but talking at the same time in a very disturbed manner — the whole resembling our worst Winter days.

RED/16/116

Sir Lucas Pepys has the Honor to inform
His Royal Highness The Prince of Wales
that His Majesty was all Yesterday Evening in a good natured & arranged State, talking as he used to do at Windsor & on the same Subjects, that he has had a very indifferent Night with only 3 hours & a half's sleep - That this morning he is nearly in the same State he was in the evening, but is more agitated & confused, perhaps from having been permitted to read King Lear, which he is now reading & talking about. -

Her House
Friday 11 o'clock - Dec: 18th 1788

Kew House - Sat. Dec. 20. 1788. —

His Majesty was somewhat more compos'd yesterday in the afternoon after the dropping of his Blisters — grew disturb'd in the evening — has had a very bad night, & continues much indispos'd this morning.

J. Baker
J. Gibborne

Kew House December 21st. 1788

Doc^r. Warren and D^r. Reynolds have the honour to acquaint His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales that his Majesty was disturbed the greatest part of yesterday, but has had a good night, and is quiet this morning. The state of his Majesty's mind continues the same as it has been for some days past.

His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales.

MED/1619

500f

His Majesty was very much disturbed in the evening, and nothing but the Terror of the Strait Waistcoat could compose him so as to go to Sleep.

His Majesty Slept Five Hours but is as much deranged this Morning as ever.

New House

Dec: 22-1788

10^o Clock

G Baker
L. Pepys.

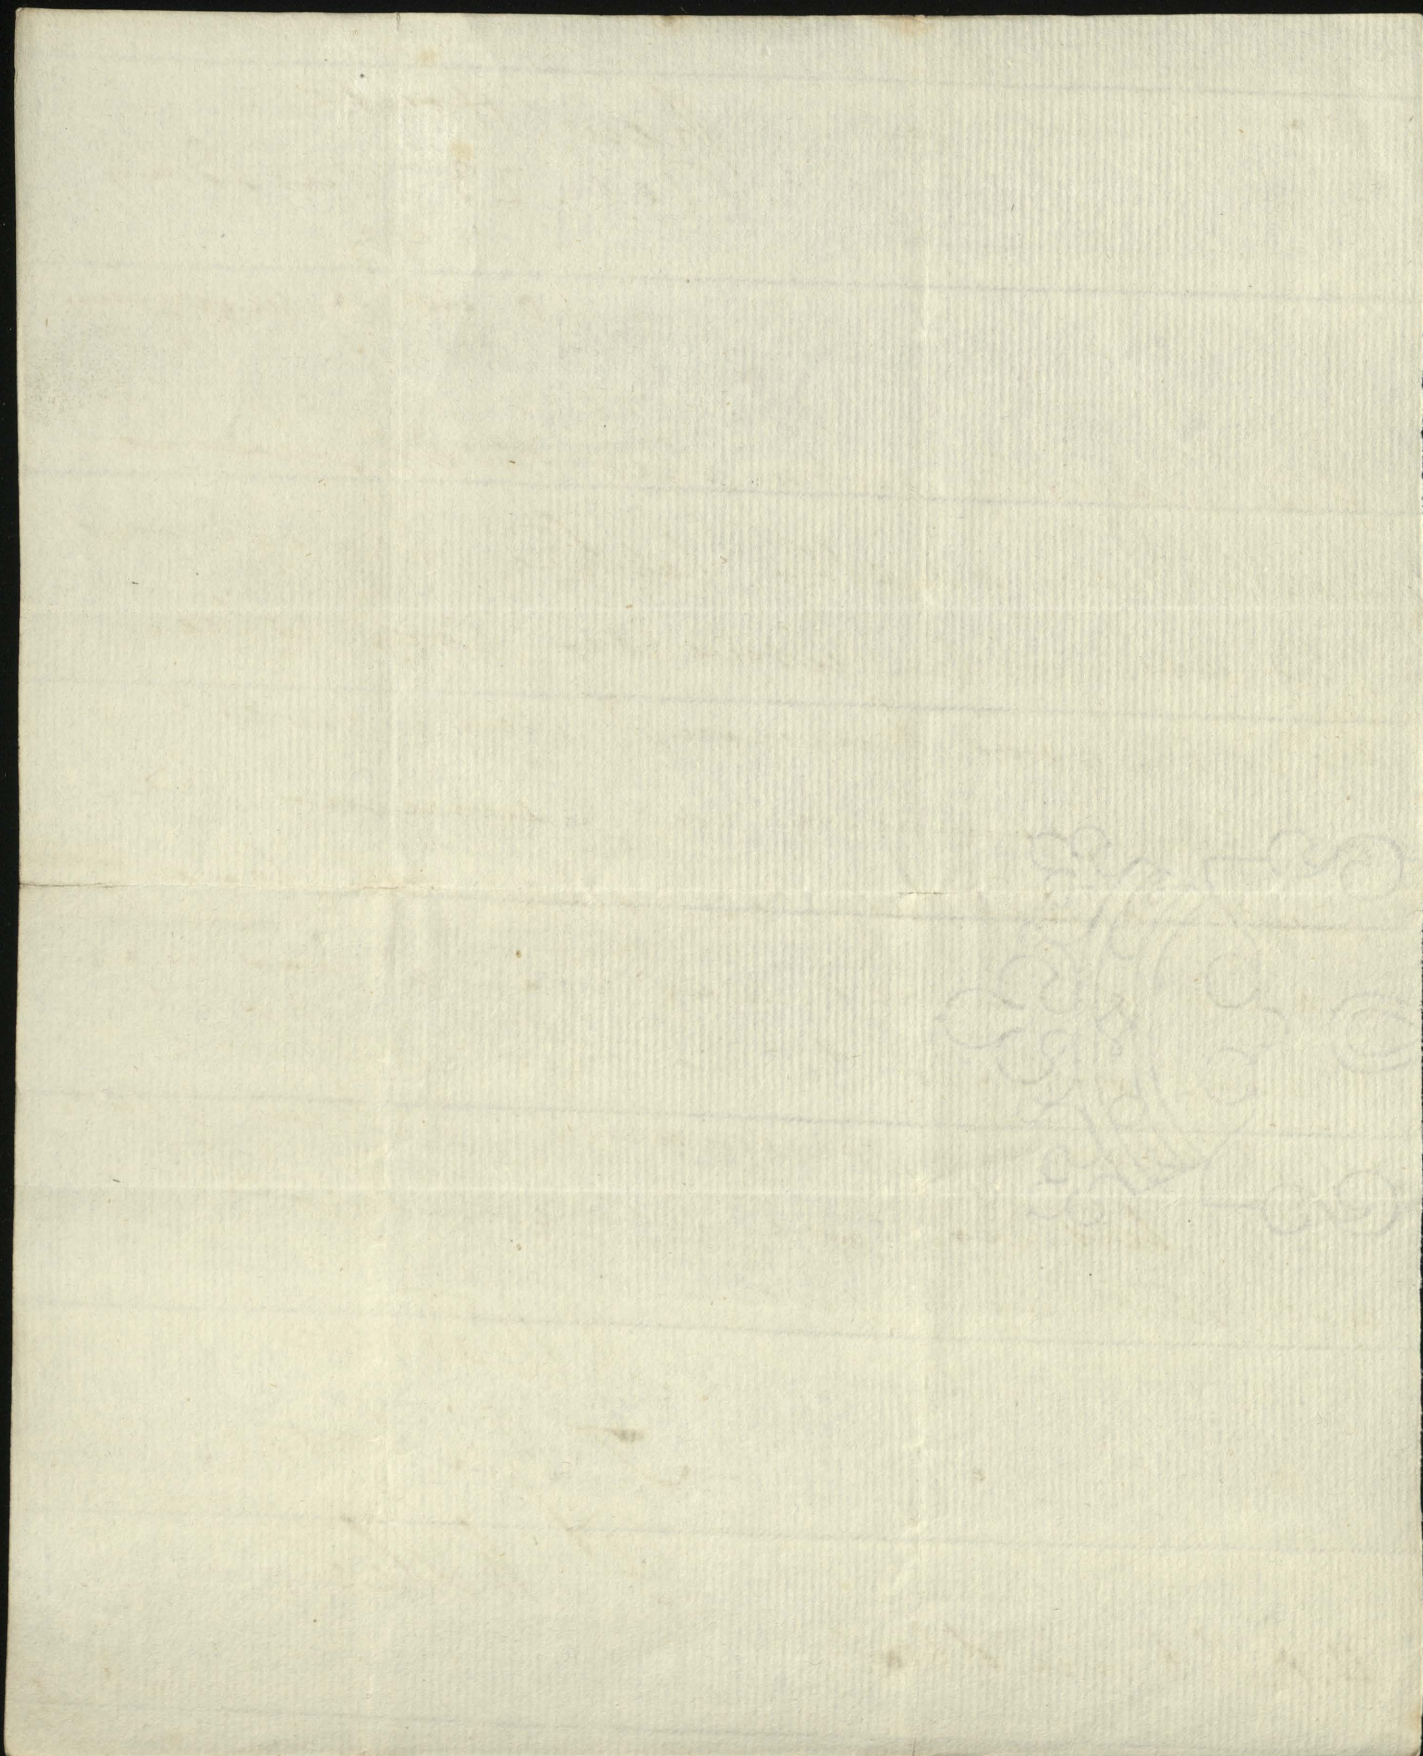

REC 16/1/10

New House
Dec. 23 - Tuesday
1788
10 in morning.

His Majesty submitted to be shaved yesterday quietly, talked through out the day as he usually does when he is in good humour, & played well at backgammon in evening. he went to bed at ten slept on however, waked disturbed has had a bad night & was obliged to be tied at five in morning, & remains in that state now - his legs are not yet healed, & are still very sore.

R. Warren
J. Gibborne.
F. Willis.

H. R. H. Prince of Wales

Sir

John Warren having yesterday morning signify'd to me as your Royal Highness's Command that a particular statement of his Majesty's Case should be transmitted daily by me to your Royal Highness; I humbly beg leave to represent to your Royal Highness that I shall at all times be ready to give to your Royal Highness every information in my power; but as yet no circumstance has happen'd that leads me to change the opinion I have hitherto held.

I have the honour to be

Sir! Your Royal Highnesses most obedient & devoted humble Servant.

Leop. House F. Willis.

Dec. 24 1764

New House December 24th. 1788-

The strait waistcoat was taken off from his Majesty at noon yesterday, but it was put on again soon after two o'clock, and was not taken off 'till nine o'clock this morning.

His Majesty has not had more than an hour's sleep in the night, is good humoured, but as incoherent as ever.

Mr Keate is of opinion that the blisters on his legs are in a healing state.

W Baker
J R Reynolds

To His Royal Highness The Prince of Wales.

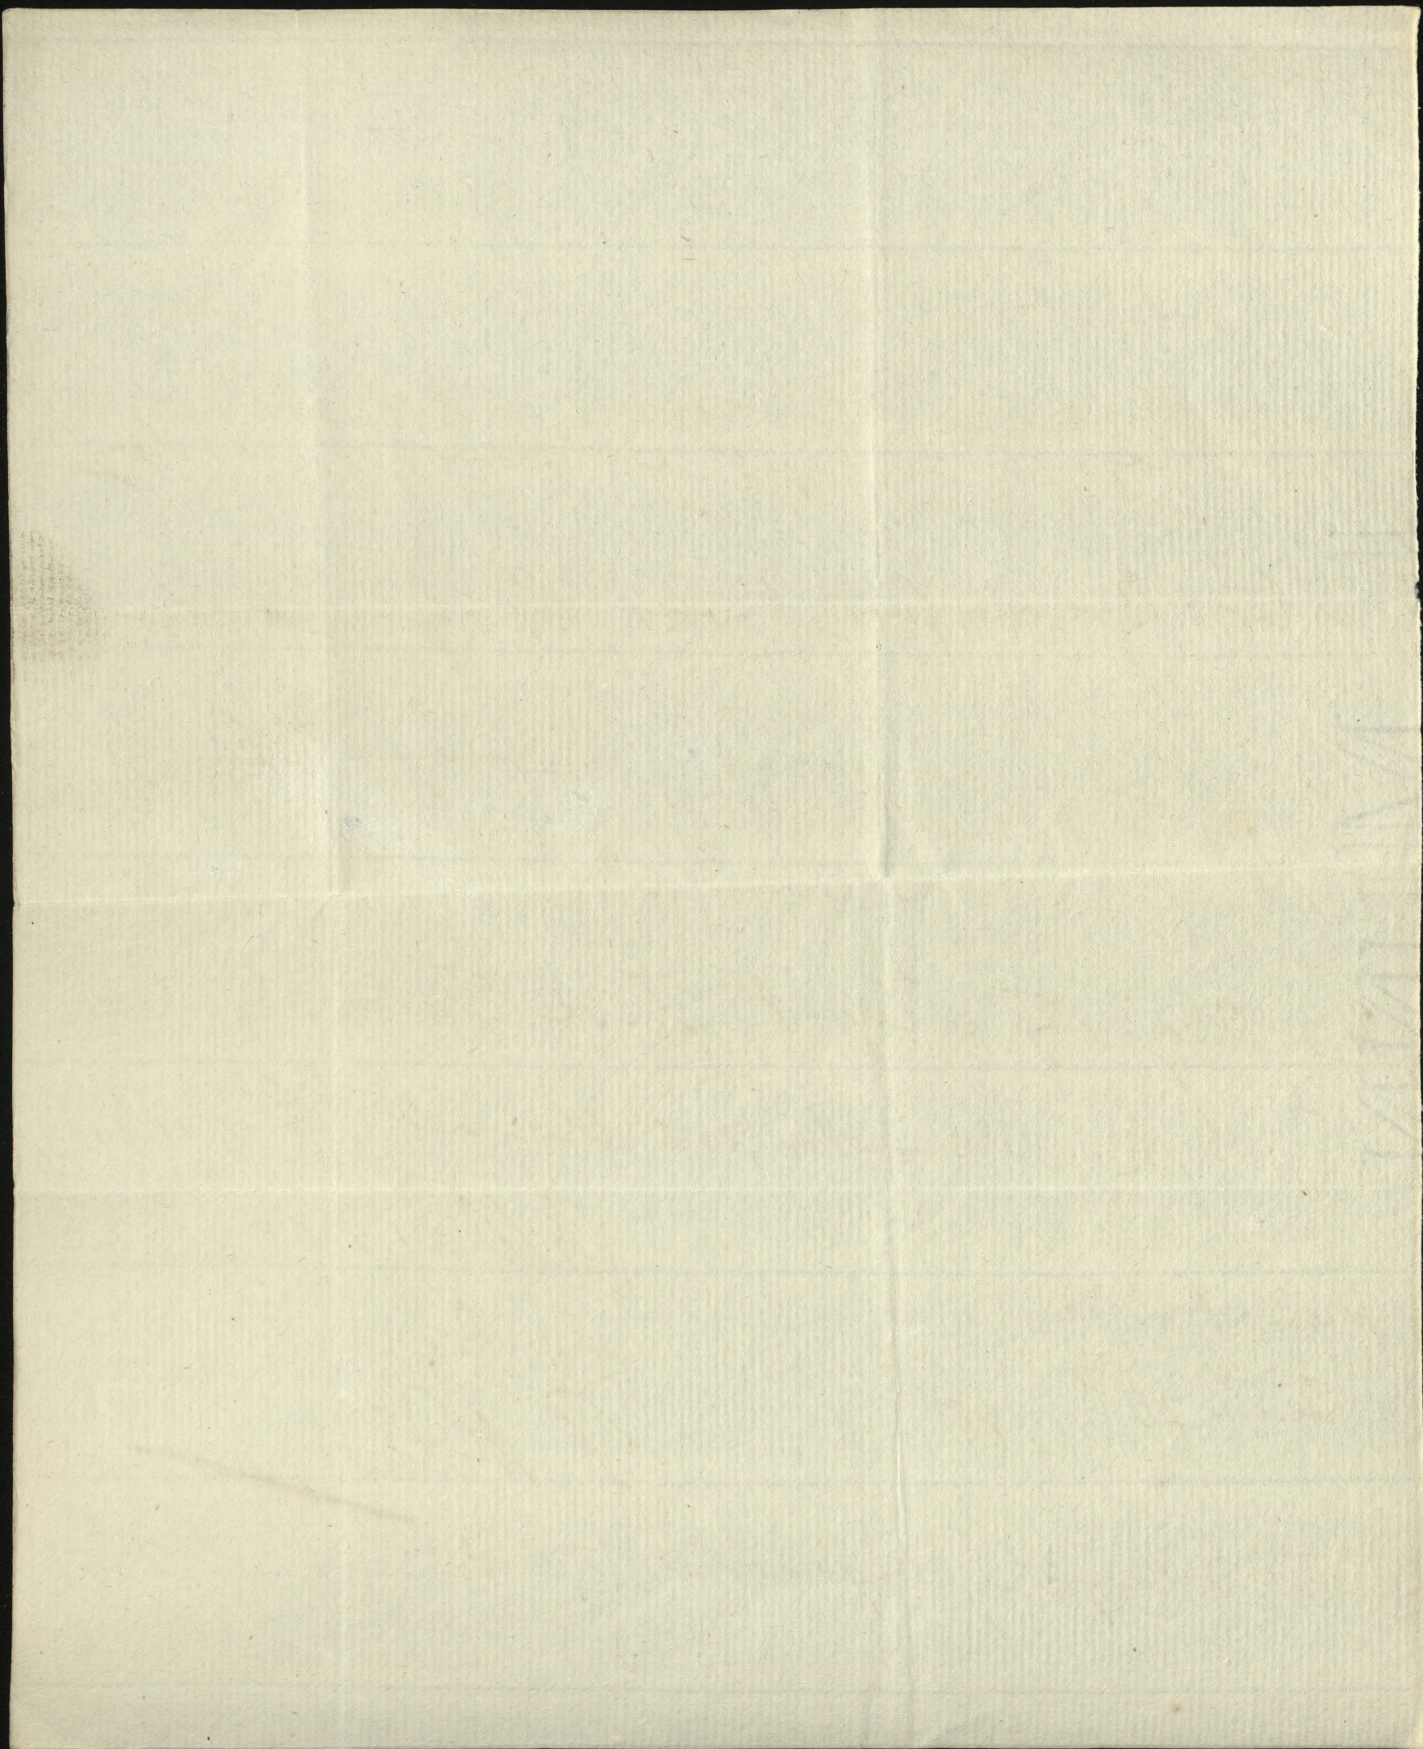

MSD 116/1/13

His Majesty Slept an Hour Yesterday after Breakfast, & was in general Quiet & Composed Yesterday, The Blisters discharge more kindly & are less irritating.
His Majesty Slept Five Hours in the Night, & is much as usual this Morning.

Ken House
Dec: 25th - 1788

R Warren
L. Pepys
F. Wilks

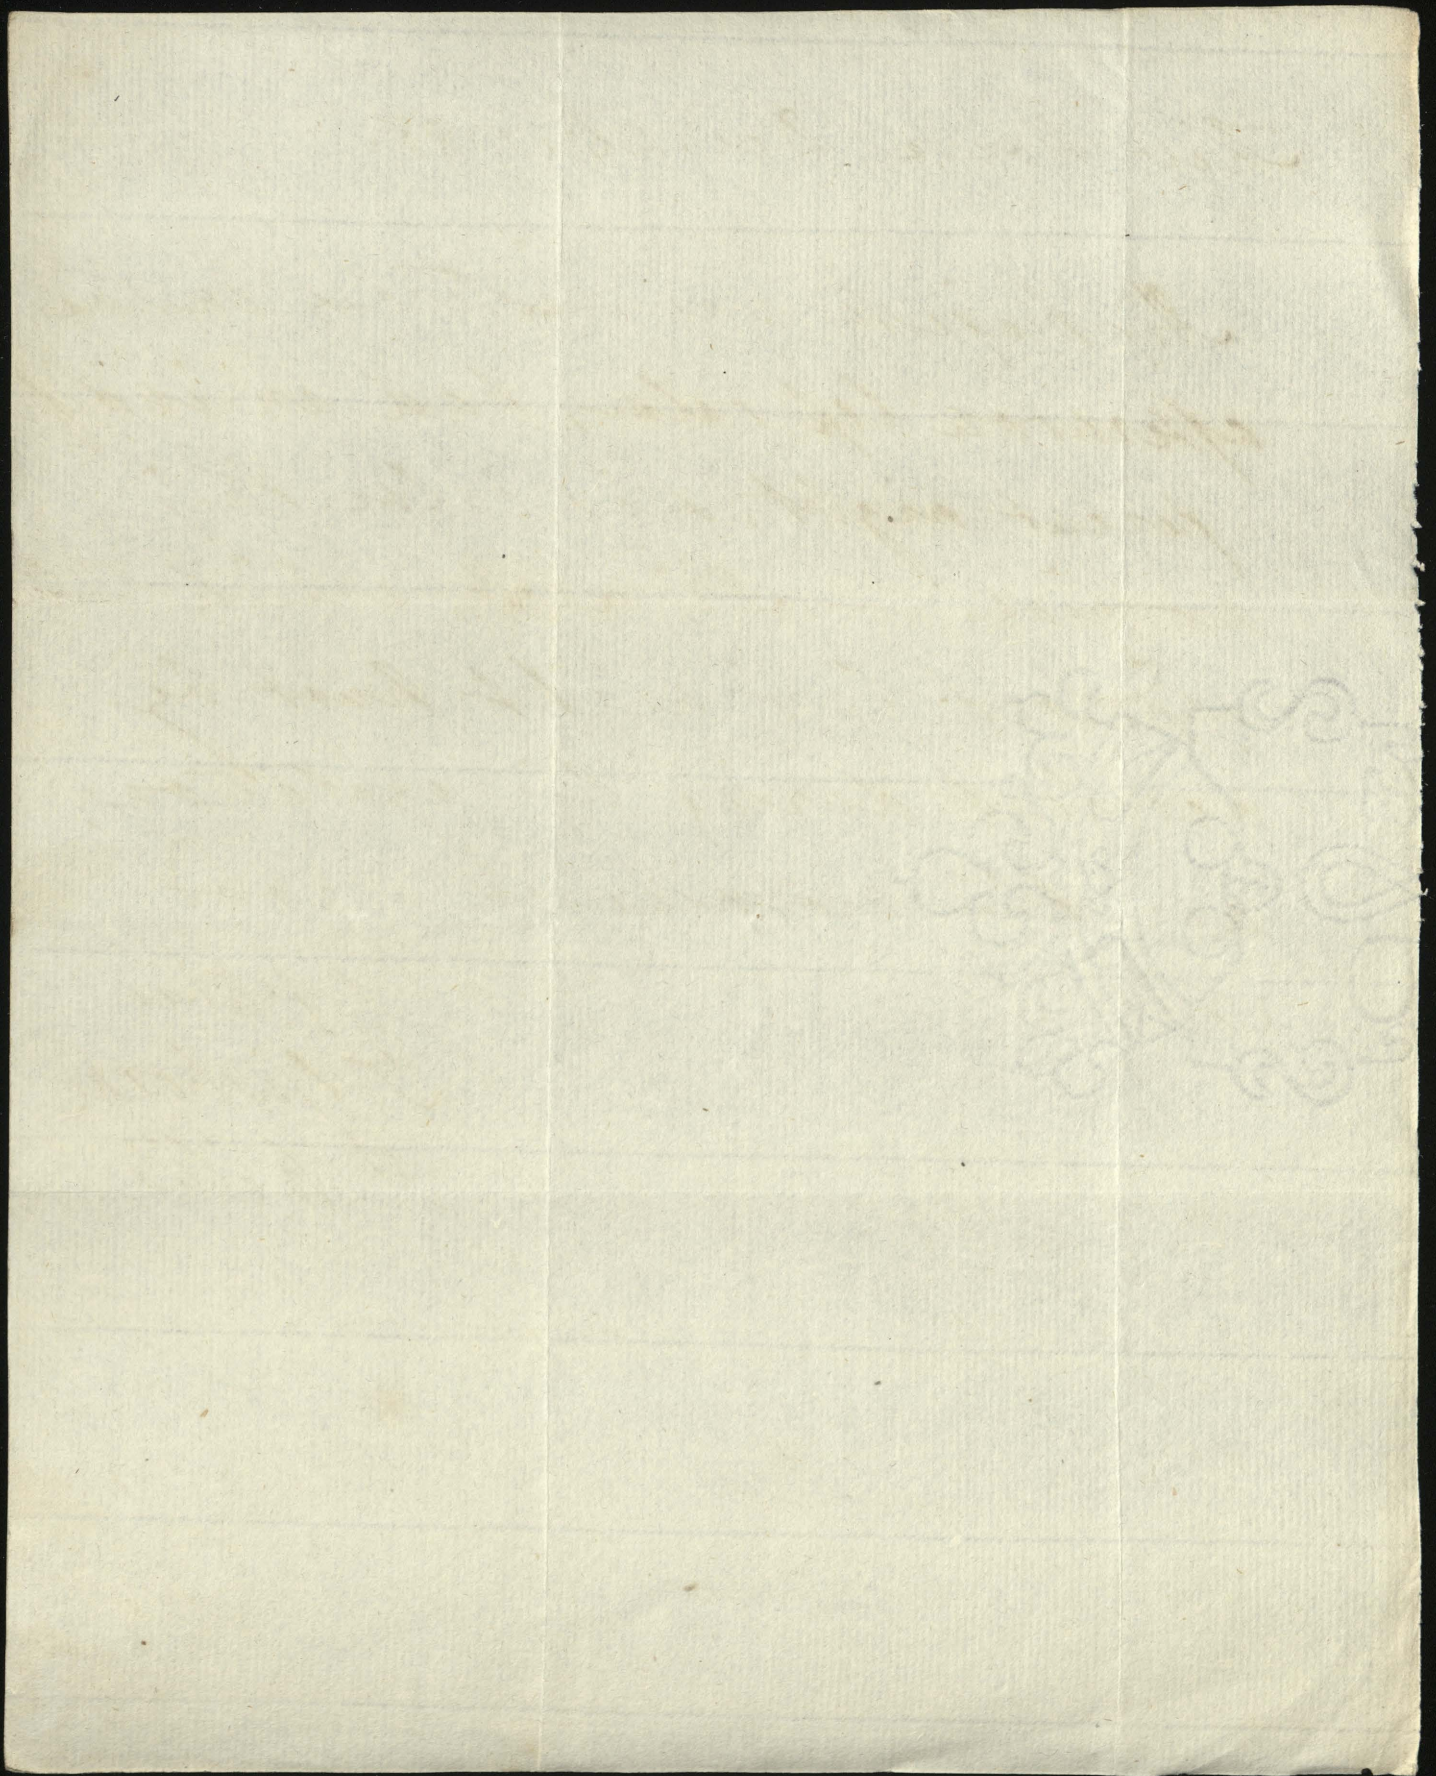

To His Royal Highness The Prince of Wales.

Stew House, Dec. 26. 1788.

His Majesty was yesterday in the afternoon less calm, had an indifferent night, & is calm this morning. — His legs, which appeared last night hurt by accident during his agitation, are this morning in a good state.

G. Baker
J. Gisborne
F. Willis.

Kew House December 27. 1788

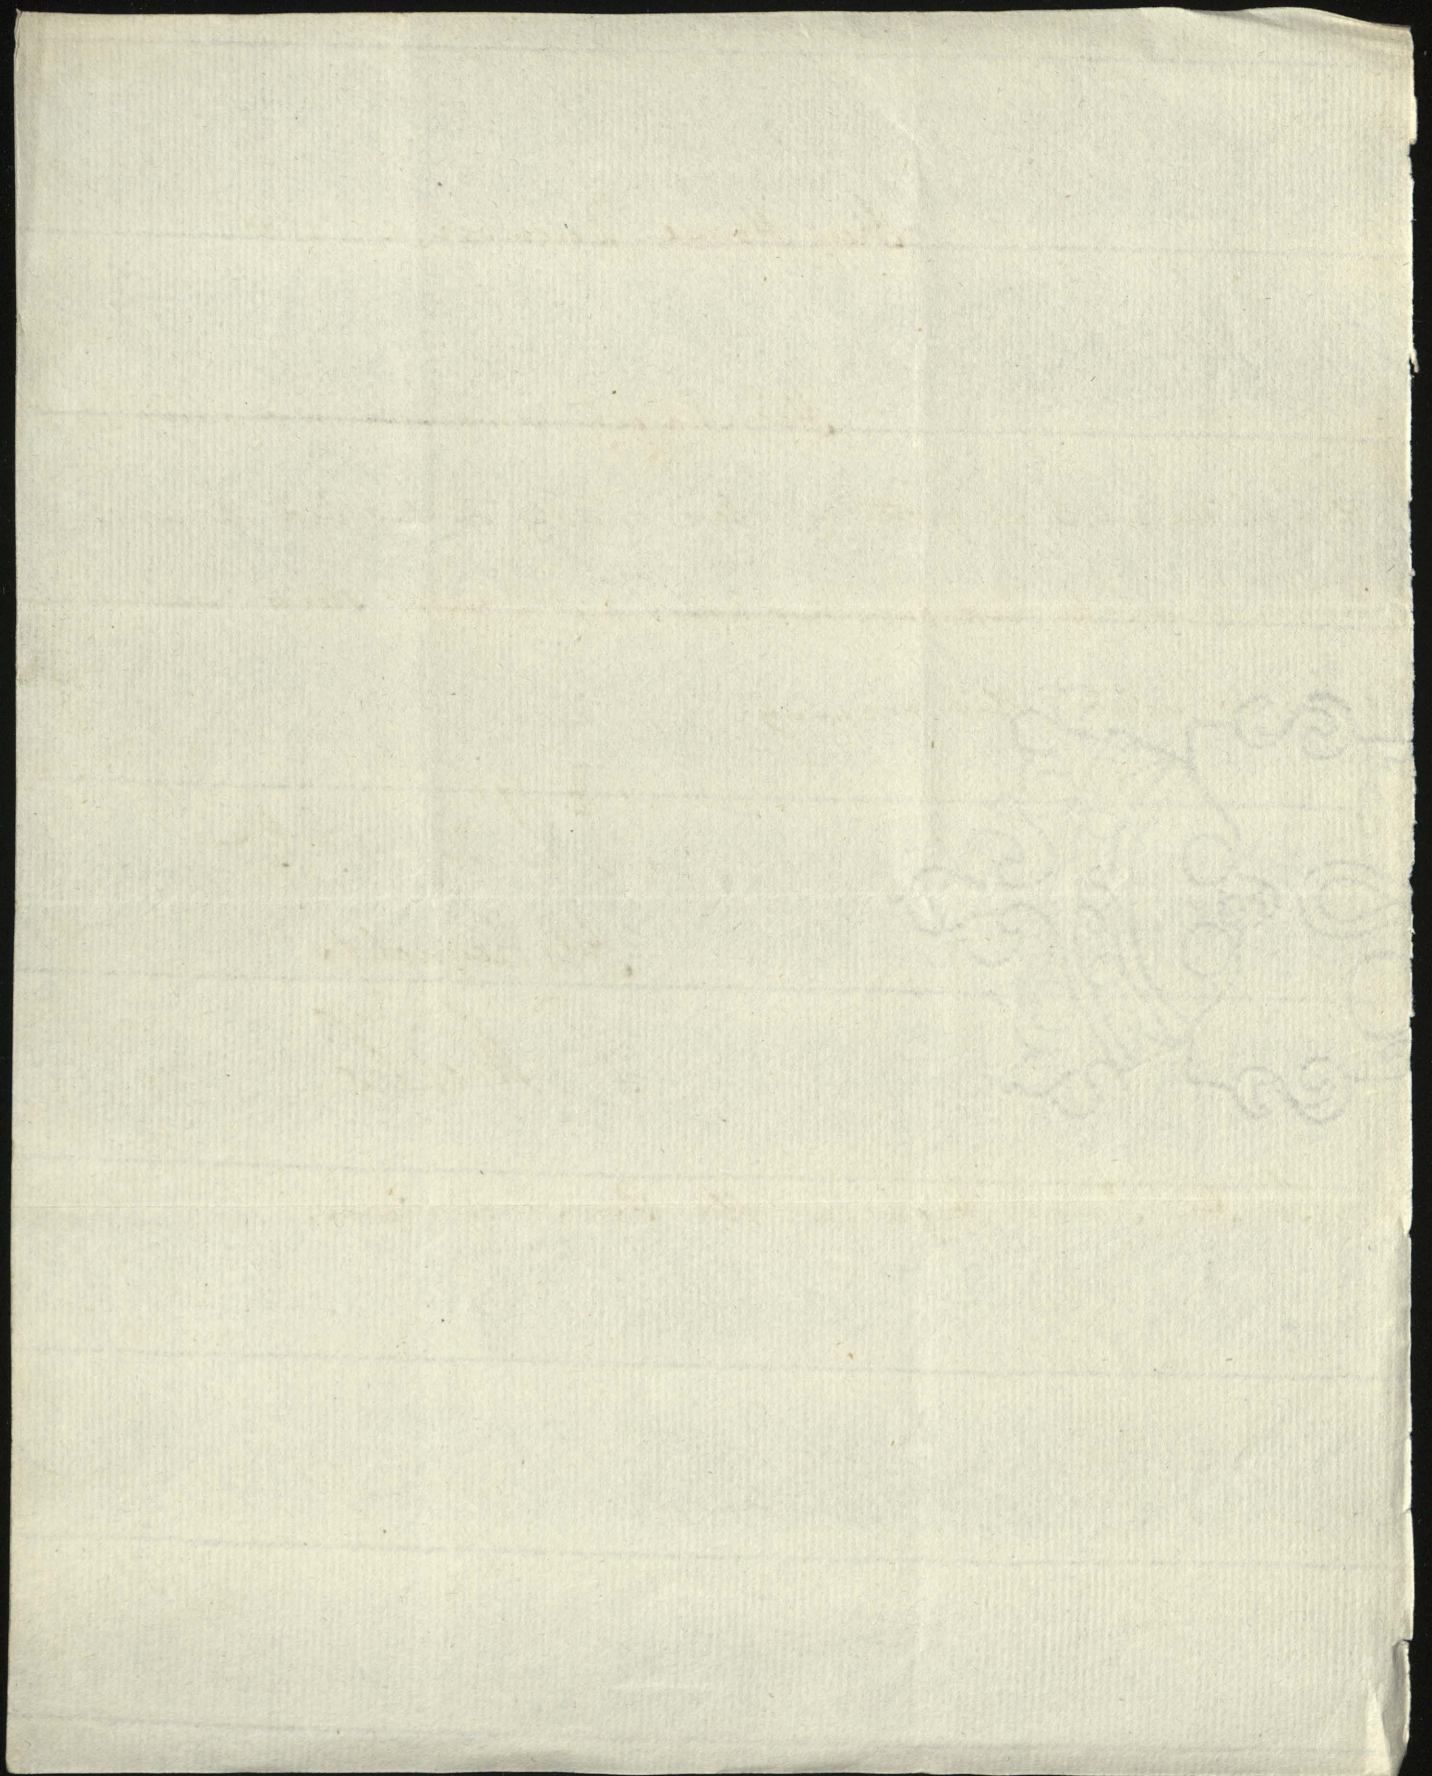

His Majesty remained in a quiet state through the whole of yesterday, lay quietly in his bed the whole night, though he had only two hours and a half's sleep, and is much as usual this morning.

R Warver

J. Reynolds.

F. Willis.

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales.

His Majesty was evidently in a much more Composed & Collected State Yesterday than he has been hitherto. The Night has been been passed very quietly & he has slept six Hours. This Morning he is Calm but in his Usual State. —

Gen House

Dec: 28-1788

~~to~~ 10 o'clock

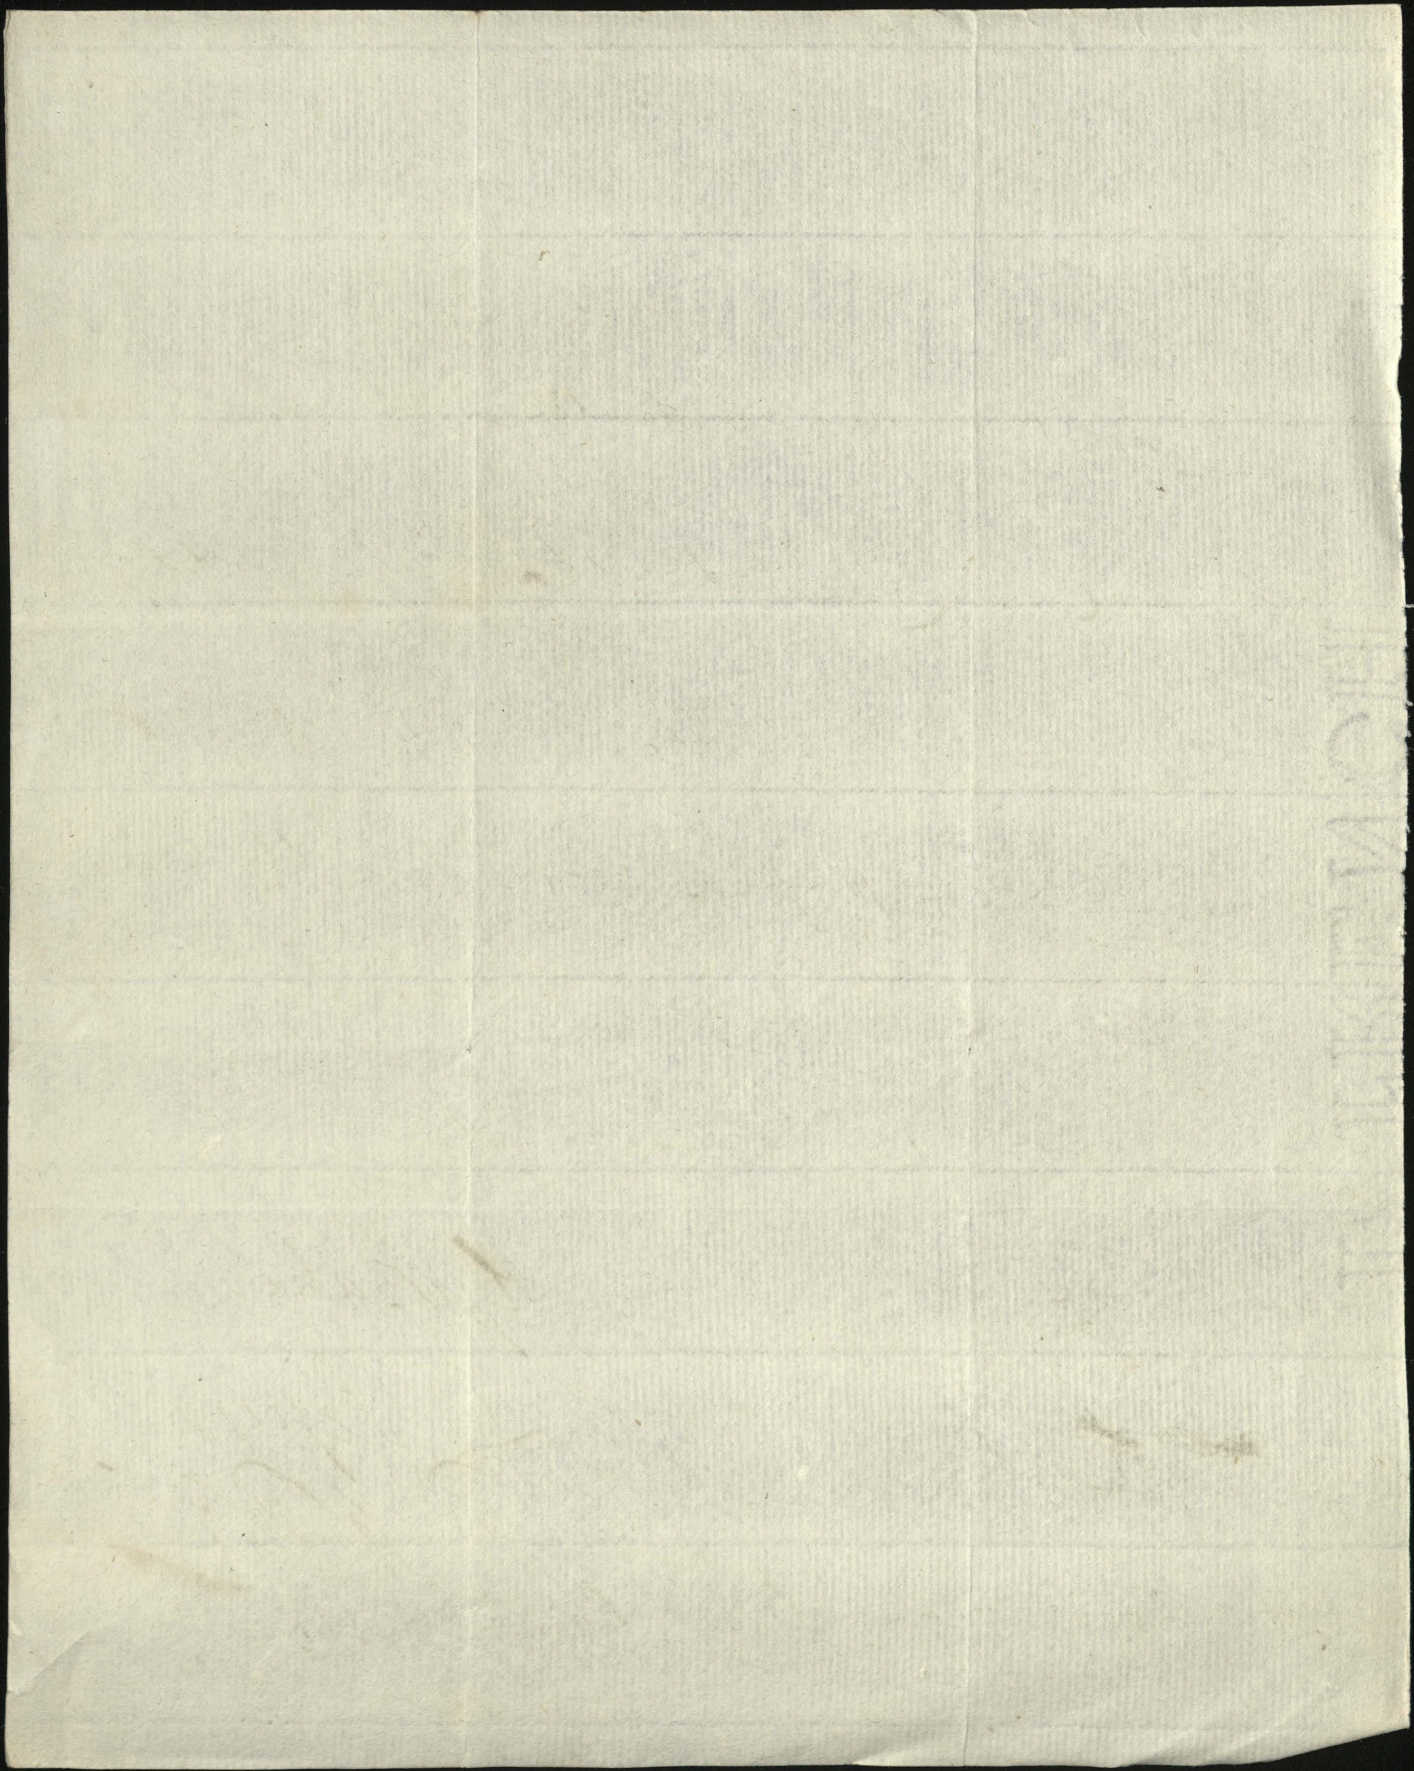

1

G. Baker

L. Pepys

F. Willis

To His Royal Highness The Prince of Wales. —

Sir.

I shall be for ever proud to obey your Royal Highness's Commands, & am at this time more particularly happy, when I can inform your Royal Highness that his Majesty is considerably better with every continu'd appearance of recovery.

New House I have the honour to be
Dec. 28 Sir Your Royal Highness's 1788 most obedient & devoted humble servant
F. Willis

[Faint, illegible handwriting on aged, yellowed paper with horizontal and vertical fold lines.]

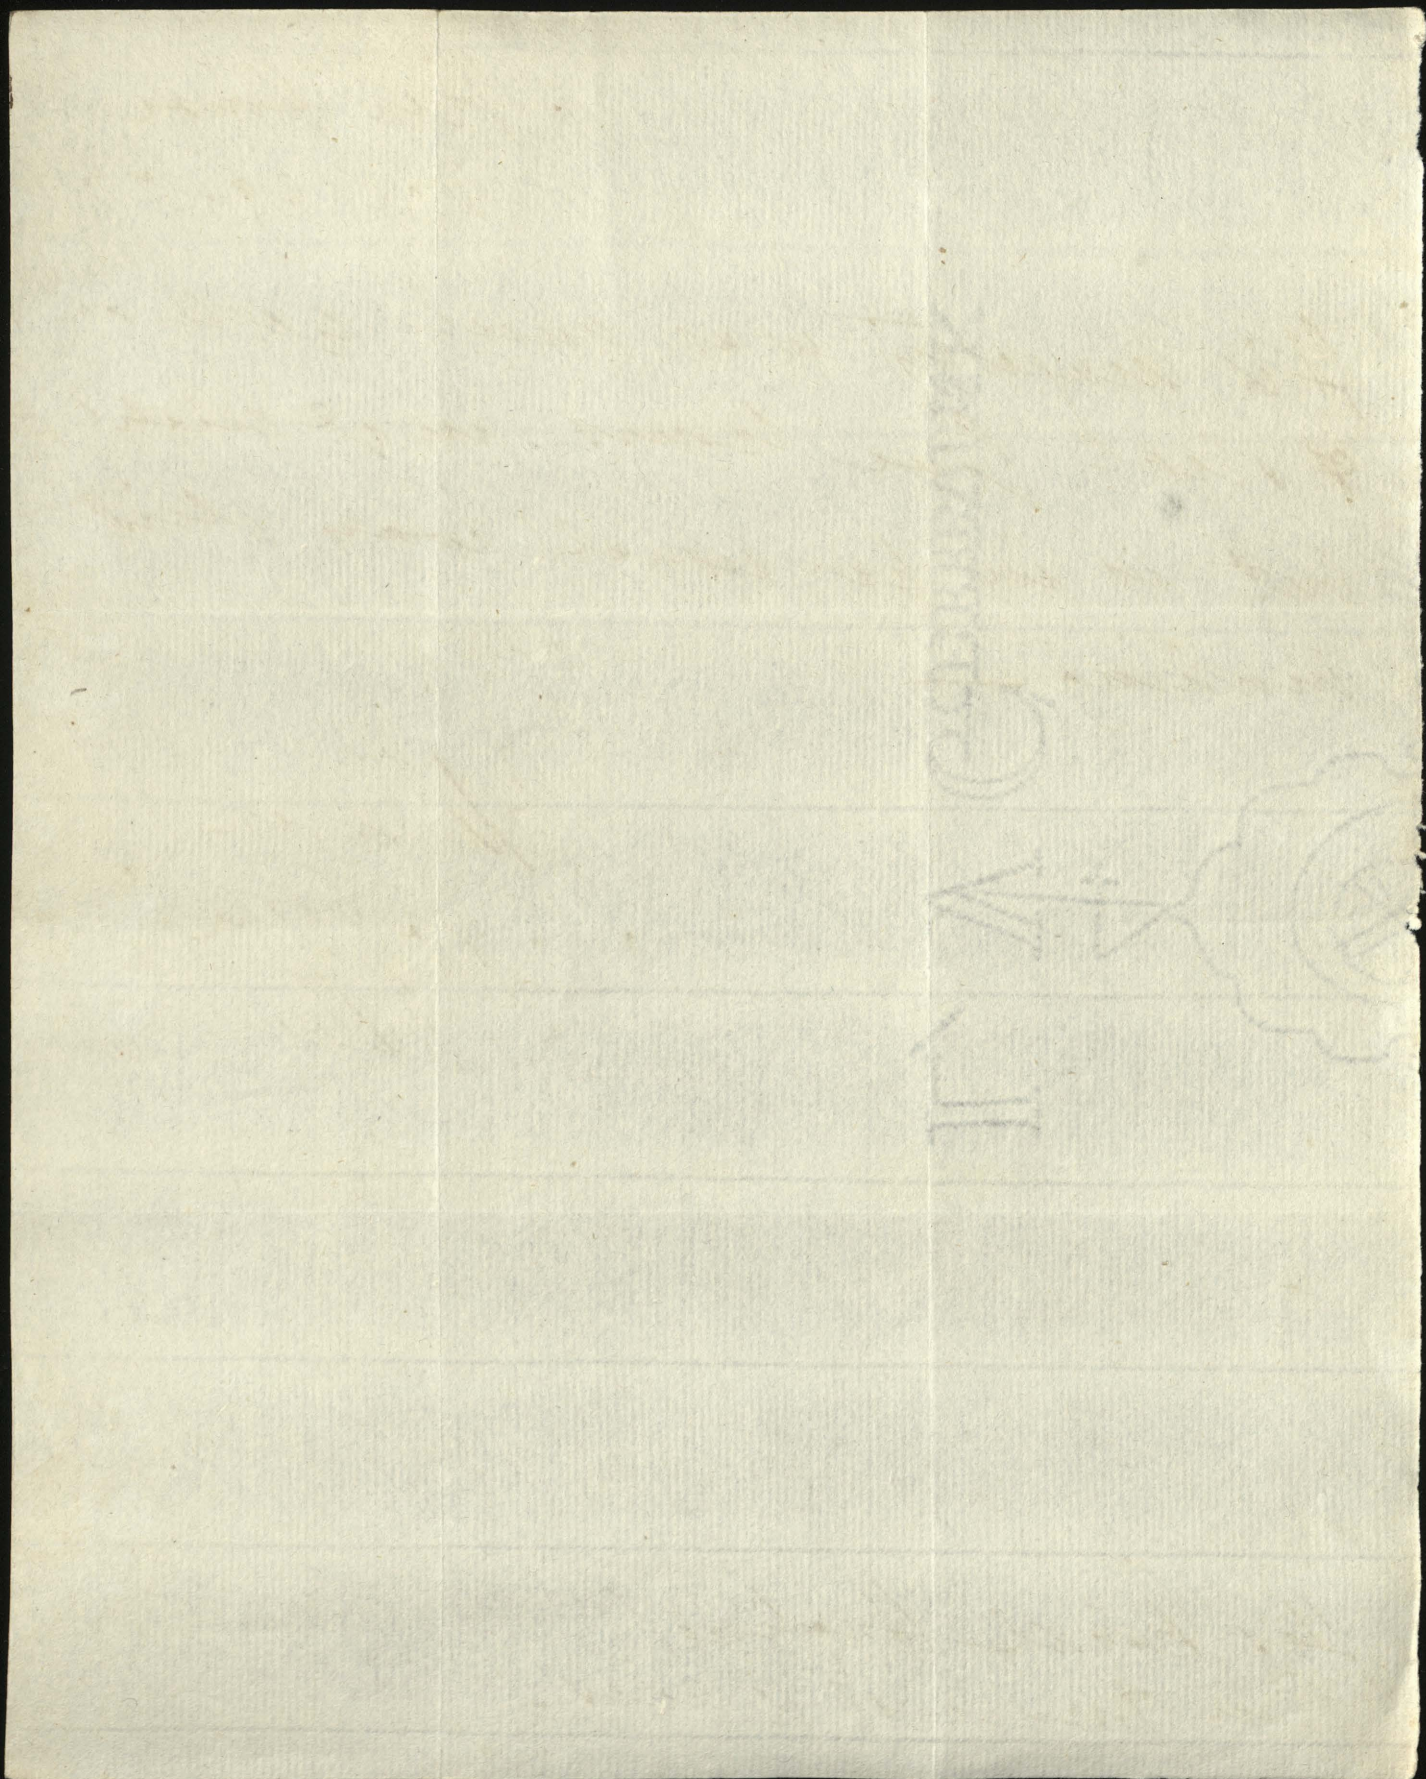

New House

Dec. 29. 1788

His Majesty was quiet yesterday, & slept five hours in a night, but is in his usual way this morning —

R. Warren
 J. Gibborne
 F. Mills

His Royal Highness
 The Prince of Wales —

Kew House December 30th 1788

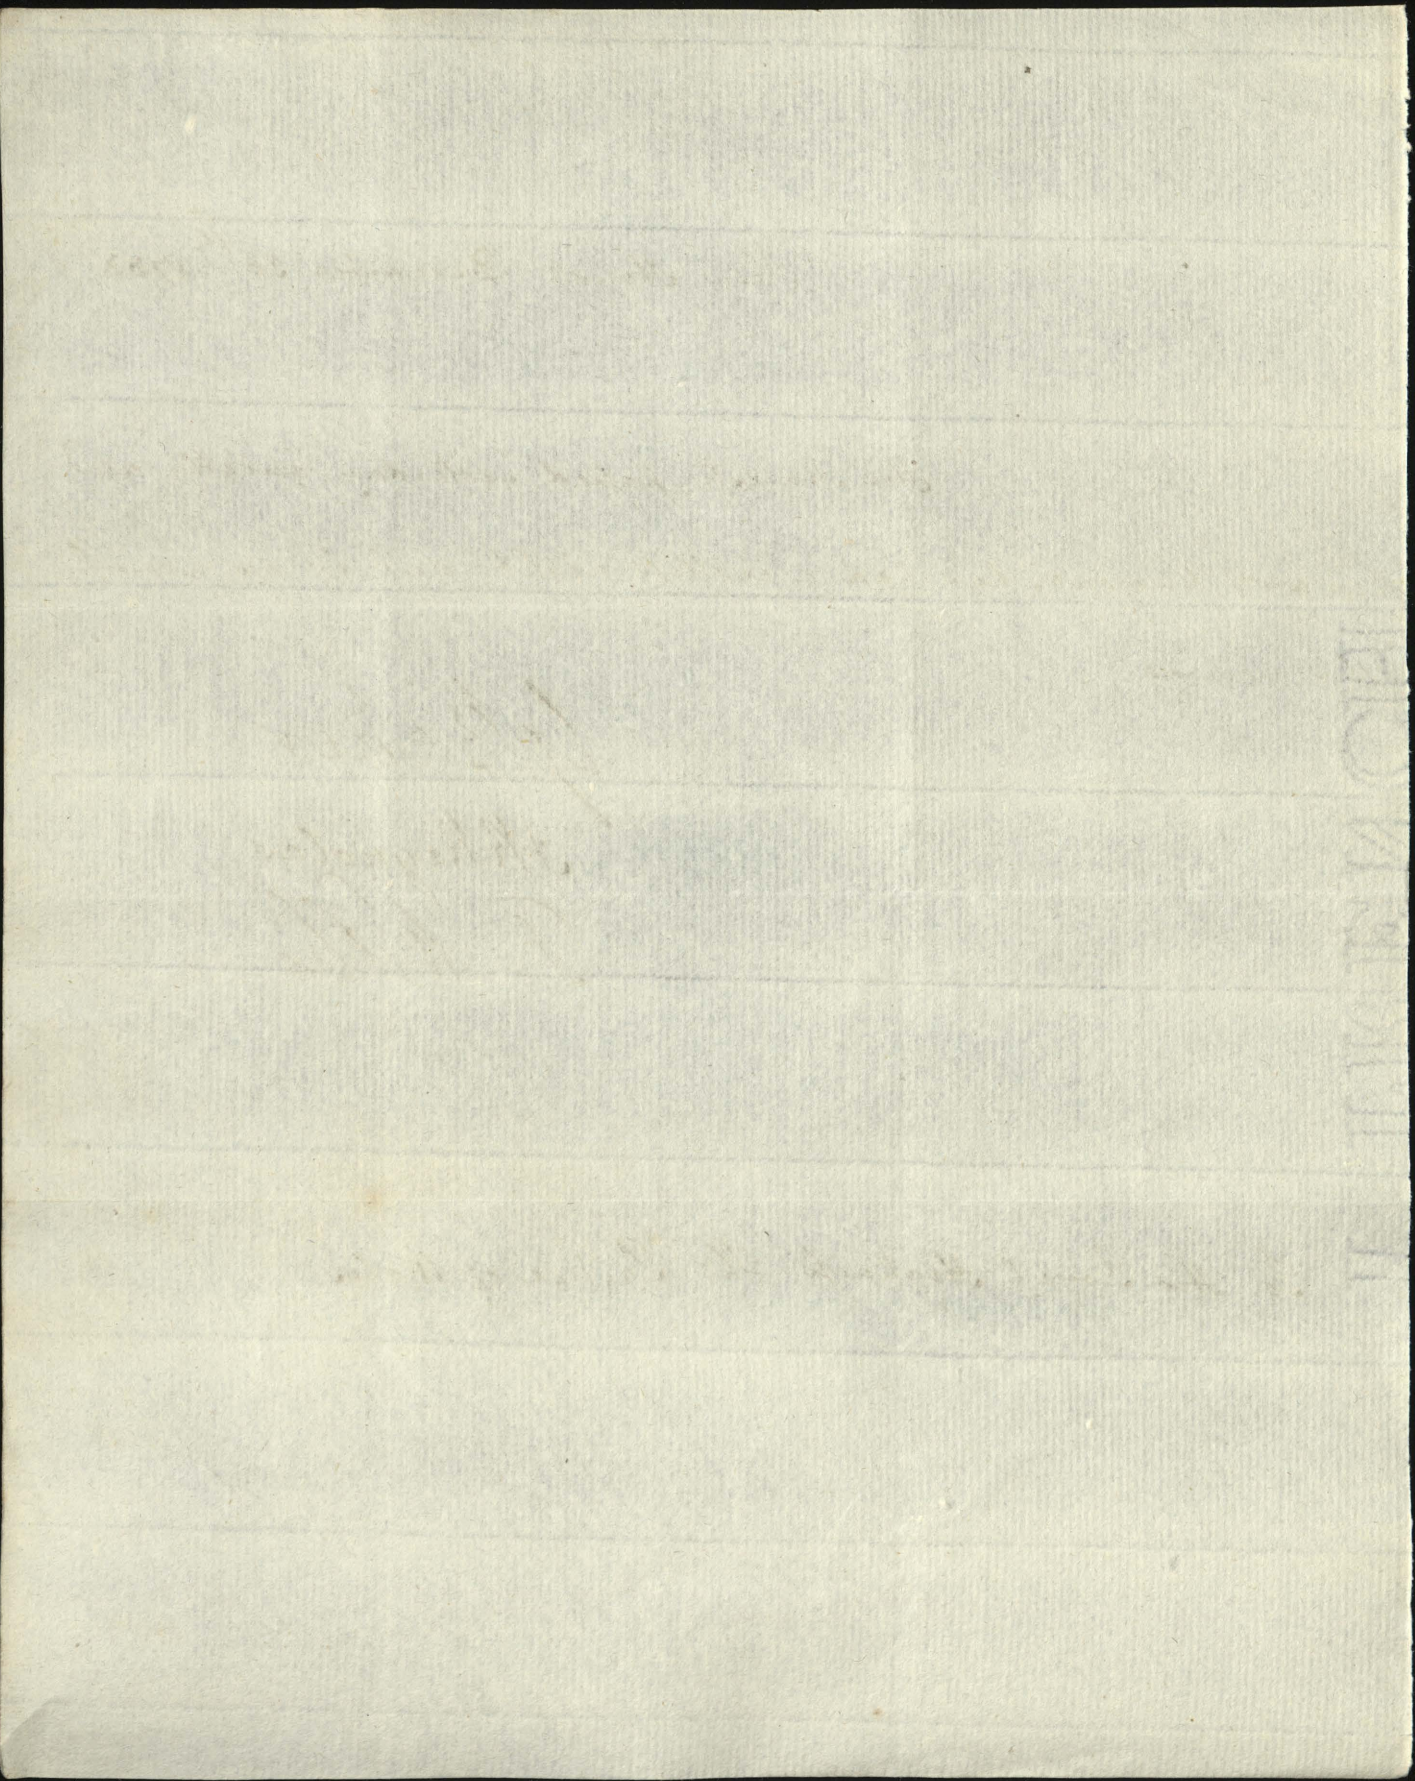

His Majesty passed yesterday quietly and in good humour, has had a restless night, and is as usual this morning.

L Baker.

J R Reynolds

F. Wallis

To His Royal Highness The Prince of Wales.

MED 116/1/20

His Majesty was not Calm in the Evening Yesterday, has had Three Hours Sleep, and remains as Usual this Morning.

Kew House
Dec: 31th - 1788
10^o Clock.

B. Warren
L. Pepys
F. Wilkes.

To His Royal Highness The Prince of Wales.

