To Princess Mary

Windsor, Castle November 2. 1809

My Dearest Mary,

The pleasure conveyed in your kind letter of yesterday that Doctor Rife had found Mrs Amelia quite as well as the expected would have proved more satisfactory to me, if I had not learnt at the same time that she had suffered so much in consequence of having eaten what disagreed with her. I grieve to think how painful must have been the Excretion, and I trust that this will be carefully guarded against in future. I am glad that Doctor Rife thinks she may with safety begin her Journey Tomorrow, & it will be a real comfort to me to know her settled quietly here & to be relieved from all apprehension of the Effects of Journeys which have been so prejudicial to her.

Believe me to

(Signed)
George
