My dear Mr. Butler

I received the volume yesterday & I really feel I could not avoid sending you Mrs Campbell's letter at the same time it is possible she may be mistaken as to the copy of the Book Privations - you will clearly see the letter was not written with any intention I should send it to you - but I never could explain her wishes so will do she does herself

I am happy to say that the Princess has talked more than last time, that she has had her usual sleep though it is of her emergency The Queen is terrible and highly nervous as usual

Yours affectionately
George
