Oct 1st

My dearest Mother I put off writing to you for a few days thinking I might have more to say of our dear Amalia & as she writes herself I tell you was acquainted with her own opinion of herself — Since I wrote last I hope I may venture to assure you the cough is not there less frequent the fever more uncertain & Broussais's theory is produced from the very violent effect of the plagues which has moved her gently In some days past, the fever on the side continues just the same & the scutens do not discharge as much as I hope makes which accounts for the side being so little hot — The sleep better & quieter but is now at all refreshed after a good night

& her plans she always desires she is in ruin, & we got out wherever we can the matter is really against her, & she is really & we must in the end she was not for our lower course because fatigued but was not quite so faint & low as I had seen her when out in the sea but we do not give us to strength the however I would add the more little appears to agree with her & she says herself she always feels more comfortable after the battle, indeed her certainly are not more therefore I had her see some strong letters & that when I see more

There
 You
 I am
 me
 up
 even
 but for my

the Thursday I shall be able to inform you the my is - I shall write the moment I have in possession & plans for her which I am I am anxious to have decided my on the other - She keeps up her spirits wonderfully considering I think she has been rather better than last two days which is not to be surprised at when one considers what a powerful Medicine the Colicinal is & she has taken it even for more than 15 days therefore I must be by this time under the complete influence of that Medicine I hope you are quite well yourself & have for some all

The compliments send a time you complained of when at Weymouth begin in other respects just as you left us very comfortably & quietly - God bless you & please see you soon

Mary
