Oct 13 —

My dearest Papa how can I express how deeply I feel your kindness in writing me such constant kind & aff. letters I am deriv'd by both Sir H & Lady Dal to express how grateful they feel for the share you take in them. present affection I still had received a letter yesterday from your sister Barbara full of expressions of kindness towards them & humble submission to the will of Heaven just such a letter as you would expect to come from a respectable a person as Sir H & Barbara — My dear Amelia I am sorry to say I had a very unpleasant day yesterday much pain in the side & a great degree of languor & depression in the head distord ^{promit} but she sent me the warm bath in the evening by Mrs Barron's desire, which for fear of cold, as the Pratts has in fine place) we had prevented her driving from since this cold wind, but as Beaman would make a permit of it she did latter & was very cold in the latter & felt chilled consequently out, however Beaman says she found her with a much fever last night that should very soon have been removed from the fever coming on than any cold, at all events she is to go no more into that bath & we had got a slipper bath which will do her as well - She has not had a good night but Beaman finds her with less fever to day - This cold

 Beam says he never remembers it so cold at any month before — I saw old Pontius yesterday went with the Capt of John Barrard & the anxiety he was in about the Guild the poor old man has been wolly sick & cryed like a child when I spoke to him — I remain your
