

My
 To Elizabeth Mary
 October 14. 1804

Windsor Castle October 14th 1804

My Dearest Mary,

I sincerely regret that you should not have been enabled to send me a more complete account of your America than that which your kind letter of yesterday conveys, and I am that she must be very much affected by the cold weather which has set in with unusual sharpness so early in the season. What you say of your Sir Lucy Burrard proves not only the wisdom of his Character but also the blessing of a religious mind, which, under the most severe Trials, must ever enable even those whose feelings are most acute to submit with <sup>that</sup> firmness & due Resignation to the Decrees of Providence which you will never observe in those who do not seek consolation in the same source.

Believe me ever

My Dearest Mary,

Your most Affectionate Father,

George R.
