

Cron. of May

October 14

1809

Oct 14

My dear Papa your truly aff^{te} kind letter gave me the greatest pleasure & I am most happy to be able to assure you that Amelia passed a better day yesterday than the day before being less languid, the pain in the side is just the same towards evening she had a good deal of fever, but had some quiet sleep in the night Beams does not find her feet fever to day which makes her feel uncomfortable — Sir A. Keble visited me to enquire how grateful she feels your generous attention & since we have your letters to Amelia & you & will take the first opportunity of communicating to Sir A. Keble — He is going

In answer to which you have unhesitatingly to require being

Your Obedient & Aff

Man