My Dearest Mary,

I have received your kind letter yesterday and should be very sorry, by any thing I have said or supposed to hasten the Leisard of dear America. Having by mouth, before the Journey is considered perfectly safe & eligible by those who, being in the fact, must be the best Judges. I shall therefore readily subscribe to whatever delay may be considered necessary, but I trust that this will not prevent Doctor Cox from going to Weymouth as he had intended. I am much wish it had been in your power to send me a more satisfactory account of dear America.

Believe me L.

 G. R.
