

Sunday January the 19th 1805 -

My beloved dear dear dear George - I have the most dear letters not yet acknowledged, but yesterday I could not but mention I had written to dear George for ever and any thing that is kind, or that is good; but I must say in answer for me I do not return in the same of the kindness of my beloved friend I should ever then not feel satisfied - I am & do delight that the Cause succeeded & how like you to give me to see an appearance of it - Dear little George did me that justice in believing I should not forget him; so I can say in that I shall the day will never arrive in which I shall forget you & yours - I am looking forward with such warmth to those times & as for my dear really ever comes at any time I shall try to be helped by those I think that I may enjoy you in peace & without interruption - I feel as if we shall little be more old; if it we shall have much to say - By this time you will have received the very long, what must you think of our
 - I feel for me kind, yet I am happy - I would say "oh I shall him? God bless him what an enterprise; may with a thousand thousand kind love spins him that also I feel in a degree of proportion & comfort in his kindness which is easily felt but too difficult to describe - I am thank you well, not very stout, & will indeed take care of myself now I know you wish it, for I do not know such a dear kind friend if I think with their wishes - God bless you, towards whom we shall meet - your affectionate & faithful friend
