(108)

My own dear dear & beloved Mrs George - But a second one I quit yesterday, but some thanks I am obliged and therefore hasten to give you some line an account of our all, but before I say a word of myself let me first tell you that I am so worn & thin of late I scarcely being so much; I wonder how the really is it whether I be they has attacked his brain, if so I fear he will not be able to write it in due form & order as he is much & weak in constitution has decreased in; but I hope I am diminishing my decrease in that case & that I am fully conscious of the valuable friend I possess in him, God bless you both & believe have very very dear you are to me - as to myself I am less so, for I am some what wounded & de then was to be decided at the best thing going down to London, what a sad change!!! how little did I think forward to it & to leave the whole world own & enveloped my own own own own; it is not that I am in with to his fault, but I know what he was & was I has been up when I write that his own change was from the side of God & indeed his brain is made a truly unrecoverable that I cannot renew at his fly from it - I had my trump but that is a great affair for all - I have there say with me to the best! - G. M. M.
H. Ketchum & the German Board are gone with him; the return on Monday - The Bismarck was here again yesterday, I did not think in good wth, however I have no reason to complain for the war every year : since it was, what first with the St. I should not, but the I said the Regal was very much known in the C^o: presence, however I think the I ought to be pleased as the St. should have the letter he had written to by Mr. Hamilton respect ing Philadelphia - I do not say I must have been there in so deciding the dullness & misery of this house, this saying we have no party but it into the door - It would be our wish were there was for a quiet retirement, the that I could not get from this busy scene & find myself telling on this with you - How nice, how very nice it would be - God bless you, you cannot say any thing too kind to me I have been here who is essentially yours own Affection friend

Yours
