

How can I sufficiently thank you my very dear dear Mr George for a thinking of writing to me; if I may say it was not ill bestowed for could you have intended my joy & surprise you would without word have seen how I prized you dear kind note - I am grieved to hear my sweet love that you have not been so well the last ten days, but trust in God it is of an easy nature, however if you will explain dear Savage to send me an line with an exact account it would be very very gratefully received - As wife of course has given you a full & minute detail of all the gaieties at Windsor, I am not sorry they are over & hope we may not have a respite for some little time to come - on the whole I really think every thing went off better than I expected - I had not a word of conversation with Savage which did not amuse me a little but he told me you were well and that was the most joyful news to my ears - Having the last bit of the least nothing could appear better than the done & did & with all my satisfaction I could not find fault

- I suspect it is a money it is a million
- The Prime dinner with us yesterday he was very full of questions, more - than having seen of L. Clifford who said she was husband wife with the wife she had had with
- She I did not tell us if she had married the done I. but she had the I for having been a civil to her which of D. C. had expressed in the warmest terms - In the evening we went to G. C. Hunt's when the very rather astonishment the B. followed us - It was a very dull party & I did not feel a little happy when I found myself returned to my own
- home - The done done I. is come to Town but I have not seen him
- I say to know how the dinner at Mrs. Saunders & how Savage was - pleased with the party - If I have calculated right done Savage is in wait- ing to night, I hope & trust it is
- so & that I may get some news
- Give him my kindest & most Affec- tionate love & tell him that I hope he will

... the first instance of ...
... during it must only ...
... his letter - Had I ...
... been done ... I am ...
