I cannot help but think right until I have written a few lines to my friend and now have your large message if that is possible do my heart full for the kindness I have experienced - I am no more now I prefer to my feelings for I really am more grateful than the power of words to express for what you have done for me and for nothing on earth I would offend you, you are a true friend but what that is do I never say I that is in fact saying very thing in a few words, I am I shall thank you for that thing you in the way of mentioning the name old Anne who I do feel is well: I just wish to see spiritual good and you may depend upon it I will tell her every thing - Anne kind with some lines of verse made unfit to me and had me by some but I cannot see the worth of you for I have very hardly as well as your old Gruff Savage, in that line with a thousand lines - I feel very very anxious for Thomas report from Weymouth in such my I never mention the mention of the time after which we are told we I am I would not get me; but point to the way - I cannot tell you how old the Prude is, to me she more by my former eye & word but that evening I asked the right of Deborah if she had heard from her boys; I her answer was no: "but the L: told me she had heard a letter from Griff Dr: which she would not read to the living as she said she was opinion & feelings on the subject and says she cannot tell any what this great degree of open intention; now is it not very strange that the L: has not the good nature to let me know the true account - I know you will not visit me & there refusing to give some account how anxious I interested I am about her; but however there is nothing I would not do to see her again or try to make her happy -

As you are going to France I have a little commission to give you should it not very inconvenient I wish you would send it there for me; would you get me a nice Dutch still for a best house; very like you like only not Dutch blue; something of a house; I want nothing expensive but plain as I said as you were paid; 6 9d if with with the for me - I am in no hurry for it but still thank you very much if you can forward it for me - Love them all My dear best and believe them most truly I am your very affectionate and attached friend
