Nov. 9 1804

My very dear dear Ed I am more gratified than words can describe at your most kind recollection of the 3^d of this month & how sincerely I feel the your kindness upon the occasion, my dear Edward desired me your beautiful present, for which I was only in return of your gift that my heart overflowed, & that which I am obliged to you I trust I may never forget the Affection you have in so many instances shown me. Permit me to add my dearest Mother that a continuance of that kindness is essential to my happiness, & that it will ever be my study to try to deserve it, for should of any length education come more diminish the Affection & regard I have for you, your goodness to me at all times is deeply engraven in my heart, & I am ever my dearest Ed your Affly attached
