

Sunday December 30th 1854 -

I am visited by Miss who is given to Church to answer for letter / I write say my dear dear Savage / & to express her thanks for it, in her name of the Queen who is much in very sensible of Mr Willson's attention; I am sure to be you do I know & was happy not to visit in the first & foremost place to inform you that the Q is in a delightful good humour, at this substituted which you approve, & I was left in a diff saying there could not be say what you like nobody want you to say what you do not feel, but it is very important that Wells be with such difficult say: therefore my dear Savage you must form a new judge must & I only allow you confidence I Wells apply to you on Sunday to say what you think best, perhaps not more of the very honest maintained the Q a few times

The Queen is really surprisingly well, & does not think you seem to suffer from the delay about the Child, how: even it appears to me that every thing remains as it was & that although the interview with the Chancellor and Prot was satisfactory as to pleasing him I do not think any spirit is gained - the Q does not consent to the Abolition being made out in the Q's name - the is at the expense of the Establishment - The Q must yesterday to Mr Adington & the Q was pleased with little visits, said he had told the Q that no one could be appointed about the Child until it was finally settled between him & the Prince, & that he still seems to be doubtful when it comes to either - to its holding place - he seems warmly interested about the Q & certainly has said that he will support her, & instead of going to the Queen on Thursday - I cannot but lament & that heavily that this business does not come to a decision, for well as he is superior in the long run must beat him - The letter the S. received from D. M. is shown to the Chamber & does not seem at all inclined to see him - I then send my budget of news - I have only to add have joined I am to know that my dear son George has been so unwell, & the doctors a good deal for not knowing that one or the ought to know these matters I am about here - I am feeling upon the thought of seeing you on Thursday & only look on side not look I was when was, although I feel a sort of dread that you will not be pleased with my letter but yesterday to dear George - I can only say that I am led on by your kindness to say more than there is to my credit, but I thank myself on the mercy of my kind friend trusting to a continuance of their friendship which is a comfort to my happiness, & believe me my affection for you still is a daily proof that the commencement of a new year can only strengthen it, & I believe my future conduct may in time make me in some degree worthy of the kindness you bestow on me - But as you had I am my dear George, I cannot write like in B. G. when addressing you; which I believe you will forgive - I cannot write a few lines to dear George & must conclude with wishing you of every thing essentially for affect & joyful with Affly

The visit yesterday at the $\frac{1}{2}$ is wrong & there X she is remains to day, but some few more the L. J. E. as this subject

I have just a moment very much done here as they are returning for my letter to your message, but one line from shall have to include my gift of having you have been a few from each of the two for some part of I was by your done done better, than I do have for it than I wish to have it, Wally has been been deciding me to visit to Switzerland next month out of such as she could not get me to say yes to her opinion about the E, but as the word is, it is most way out with your cost - I shall visit to you thousands for certain, this is only to show you I am not ungrateful & have thank I should the friend shall you with best me your effort & attention

Wally
