

May 15

The night has been a very good one, better Mansie does sleep, tho the bed was adjusted all via but thank God he stays in bed together. Both says he was very mild & good humoured but full of pride — Dr. Baillie who we have since seen thinks the conversation was good, but the man was rather hurried, he mentioned to him the work he had of his kitchen on his side six if not seven but it made him angry for a minute some more was said —

After giving you the good account of yesterday I must for this inform you that the work with Genl Gwynne was not good, not in the least irritable, but full of plan, it is extraordinary that there should be such changes in us the day for the rest of it by all accounts was remarkably good meeting with Col. Taylor on the evening what that was I have not learnt — but my dear Sir the manner of some people is such that if you could see me a green on some of your own, or in secret, you should be immortalized for indeed it is awfully bad I grieve to say & break my heart — I believe is a thin true, I am much bound to you, I had rather than heard all than having my father put it for it tells me & he said yesterday I would be gained by hundreds of paper men, but not by volume or constant introduction.

 Mrs. Pury told me there for you have some necessary it is to work upon such a man with your graces, particularly from that quarter Believing me

always the same
