I have the pleasure
of a passing note that Mr. Henry had a good night & the rather more elevated thro
morning. From your writing Dr. Baillie
expressed us that the
at first he was hope
ling in his recovery
it went off & his conversation was profound sensible &
good, for he gave
the same account

& the Queen said she thought nothing is
 so fairer than the
 letter written to the Council. Mr. St. was much affected in hearing of the Duke
 of York's reception
 on the ground at Westminster which delighted him but
 the whole day after they were by all accounts excellent
 many a letter to day, at least so

she says -
 The King himself is struck with his being left married

Believe me
