

July 3rd 1811

As far as this morning you, You shall have,
The night has been good & quiet, six hours sleep & no attention at Bed making, so that seems good, & early this morning there was little or no hurry, how the visits of the Physician have gone off I know not, for none are come up as yet, but I shall have this open till the last minute in hopes of hearing — You kindly said You would write but may dont worry yourself about it, for believe me my whole wish is to be useful & a plague & bomber to nobody, therefore if you do not write believe me I shall not take it ill & if my poor accounts, can be of the smallest use to you, my intention is satisfied, & these words not be written, if it was not the language of truth; so saying a day moon was seen for the sake of the Aug I wish it to clear, besides my first grand wish of the year Henry not losing his walk etc for myself a quiet morning is a treasure not to be told — for you must be well aware I have little time to myself —

I have just heard that Dr Brudenell says nothing passed wrong in the conversation but the manner. unfriendly. Dr W. says the same — I ought to have known
