

I am sorry to say the result of this journey was but a very indifferent one in all respects a great deal of hurry in talking plans without end & struggle but quite crop a very little would have put him out of business. He put me down as being as I used to be him after the other things than any day I have seen down before. Quartermaster McCune was frightened crop & put out by finding him more hurried than she expected which made the rest go off better than equally all on her side which of course made him if possible more hurried Dolly went to hear the sermon we left home & did not get away till 4 o'clock he found him very much hurried & a great deal of delirium at times but very shrewdly on your I read him full of plans & insisted Jolly told me he had not seen him or heard as to day unusually before - Miller does not appear to heard at all he says up & down we must have & if we had not the King could be quite well & perhaps as things on it is fortunate very true & then tell his mind is quite strong that the delusion should show itself as it is a proof how unhappy great is & any thing is better than the King's losing power to hide it or as to deceive the King our Barons account this evening is that the King has been deceptively purpos in his conversation more like than should have been but deposed at Bayham.

much better than he expected with money, but not one word that led to delusion. He went to bed perfectly quiet & fell a sleep immediately therefore it is to be hoped to morrow will be a better day —

I suppose you know the Play was Paper sent to the Government to day of course I have not seen it the I told me I had been attend since you had seen it, & she told Baillie "I have nothing to do with the paper all I hope is that you are & all on of the same kind" — I have got my little out of Baillie this time but that he had even the a prospect of York yesterday indeed I have hardly seen him —

If some of my 02 numbers are in possession to know tonight I should like to see you for few minutes after our supper you could stay with Sophie a little & then come to my room, but if I cannot come perhaps I will pass the time I can not see you till the next day - God bless you don't forget I need & believe me your most affectionate
M
