 Private for God's sake but wisdom shall be my motto you shall say
 I was there on that point
 I am like Baulie —
 My mother has written an excellent post letter to Her C. which they will receive tomorrow & has fought your battle well, she is ever more angry with Gen. D. but don't know it for he foolishly
 said to the C. the feeling the H. pulse was all folly — then

told my Mother & she woud to speak strongly
to Dundas, I own I said it because I remember old times for God sake dont betray me & dont know it —

The account is since thou he has been here fully state played our seasonably I'd not stick in the winning word
to be a rule, & is now just a luck — Pr. to tell our Mother on her speak my strongly to have concerning this Brother that it was our comfort

Annals & he only brought for peace for it would put to them, & she has voluntarily remarked to them that no one had had such a slap of
the face as he has had,
you know he is a man
of few words — so said nothing I believe but I was not there to tell you the truth I am
such a lover of them
my that it keeps me in a fever — I don't
speaking to you but
invariably to every body

I don't think quite so
dear — Believe me
to you for your calling no one is more sensible of kindness than
Yours
G. F.

When ever a sense
of your past kindness
