Dearest Compton

I am infinitely obliged to You for the Things you have sent me & wish you'd give me an Answer before I send you the Money.
 I wish to know whether you'd have any objection to have a Draught on a Banker in London from our Banker here. For I cannot get English Money here. I send you here an Almanack for your little Girl w^m 3 for my selder Sisters.

I wish you'd send me by the next Messenger a ~~lot~~^{some} of good Italian Stones for a Collar for a friend of mine together wth a good English Bow. As I desire they may not be of the thinnest sort, I give you the permission knowing you are a Musician

I wish also you would send me a couple of English Quills Penes one hard & one soft & you'll infinitely oblige him who ever Remains yours

Dear Compton

At the instant I read the words "Quam hunc "in close waiting" you cannot conceive what a sensation I felt how much I wished at that moment to be in the King's Room next the Concert Room, that I could see the King Queen and Sisters without my being seen, this puts into my mind the Recollection of many happy Hours passed in their Company, and which may happen I hope again.
 I must ~~never~~ ~~now~~ however that I would on no Account whatsoever return to Paris, and live in the same situation as formerly, for here I live very agreeably in company with so many young Men. It is very amusing as they are of so many different Countries, English, Hanoverians, Prussians, Saxons, Russians Hungarians & many more. I hope you will not fail to write soon again and by that you will infinitely thank me who remains

Dear Compton

I write to you to thank you for all the kindness you have always done me, and hope you are not angry that I have not sent you the Money but which I intended to have done by this Messenger, but an English man of my acquaintance intended to depart from here in 3 or 4 Weeks, I shall give him the Money & a Letter at the same Time ~~to~~ how to pay it. I send you here a bit as a

From the Queen's Res^d 5 Aug^r 1788

As the Kings German Messenger is to go away on Friday, Mr Compton is desired to send by Him to Germany Prince Ernest, some Black Paper for taking off Flowers, & all sorts of White Paper necessary for that Purpose. Also ~~the~~ ~~two~~ a Box five mine of transparent & Lake Colours with Brushes Pencils &c likewise a set of those Pragen Pencils which I know will be very agreeable to Him. all this must be directed to the Prince & sent to Mr Hinners House.

The inclosed is a Letter from Popadair, who with my leave gives you the Commissions to execute which He received from my Brother. I flattered myself these things might have been bought here, but they are not good.

The direction upon all these parcels is

Dear Compton

I suppose you have heard of Augustus's Illness which truly has been of a very dangerous sort but thank God it is much relieved at present, it was an oppression in his Breast together with a violent Cough that lasted sometimes for two Hours together without Interruption, and yet notwithstanding all this he lost during his whole sickness only 4^{lb} astonishing when you consider that he laid three Weeks in bed was egyptised, bled vomited & purged I don't know how often. I expect by the Messenger a Letter from you telling me all the News from England. I have been three Times to the Hanoverian Camp about 15 English Miles where I saw the Manoeuvr of two Regiments of Cavalry consisting of eight Squadrons, and 2 Battalions & 2 Battalions of Grenadiers, it lasted from eight in the morning till twelve. I know no more news wherefore I leave off with wishing you that Lady Harcourt, when she received the drawing you trusted to her care, expressed my real sentiments when she told you that I should set the higher value upon ^{it} for ~~it~~ being your work; however, it requires not the eye of partiality or of personal regard, to add to its merit, for the drawing itself can boast of what is seldom so perfectly united, neatness, softness, & relief, and I should be ignorant if I did not admire it, & ungratefull for this fresh mark of your kind attention, if I lost one moment in returning my thanks, & of assuring you of the perfect esteem with which I am your obliged.

Mr/ Compton is desired to order for Her Majesty a pair of Silver Candelsticks after those which come in the Box. but not the same in Size, The inclosed Paper contains the Drawing of the Size both of the Candelstick & Nozzle. The Queen wishes the Size of that Drawing should not be exceeded, & as perhaps ~~for any Snuffers~~ the Size of the Snuffers will be too small ^{for any Snuffers} the Queen chuses to have an extinguisher instead. The sooner it is done the better & when executed they are to be sent to Weymouth Directed to the Queen.

Queen Charlotte to Miss M. Planta

Mr Compton, is desired to bespeak immediately a pair of Silver Candlesticks they screw together as those Her Majesty uses frequently when She Works. The inclosed paper is the size the Queen wishes them to be, as ~~these~~ the last that were made were rather too small. & in case any Difficulty should arise about the making of them there is a pair of Freymore which may be given as a pattern. upon both the Candle sticks there is to be marked. Copy on one side. & M. H. on the other as may be seen upon the Paper. but the Copper must be pretty.

Dear Compton

Since my departure from England I have not once wrote to you which is now about five years. It is truly strange if you consider our old acquaintance nor do I know how to account for it myself. Consider my age when I left it and the usual spring of life of those years perhaps then it may admit of some excuse though forgotten to all appearances I can assure you Dear Compton I do not without pleasure recollect those last days when we used to live together especially those spent at Genoa. Times to be sure are much altered and since that a variety of agreeable and disagreeable moments have passed as in the case in every Mans life. so long an absence from home especially makes me look with great eagerness to return but almost probably that will not happen so soon. I always comfort myself with the idea that that day will come when we shall see one another again and that I have for a longer time you will probably

Mr Compton is desired by the Queen, to get a young like the one she has in constant use, & which Mr Compton knows, it is to be of skin instead of leather. The measure is. $18\frac{1}{10}$ - length. $11\frac{1}{10}$ - breadth. $9\frac{1}{2}$ height. Top it is not necessary to be the exact size, ~~top~~ a little less would rather be more convenient, & above all things it must have a good lock whenever it is got. He is desired to send it to Windsor.

The Queen also orders Mr Compton to send by the Quakerly Haverian the binder all kinds of writing paper to Prince Consort the Queens Books.

From The Queen

Compton is covered by the Queen to get certain quantity of Green Paper stained according to the colour of Common Laurel. Common Lay & according to the enclosed leaf which is a Foreign Lay. The texture of the Paper is to be like the enclosed Paper. Also a certain quantity of Thin Rose Coloured Paper for Boxes, & also some dark Red Papers of different shades, likewise Yellow Paper for Yellow Boxes.

There is also wanting a great quantity of the Wym which is such across the Green Paper & besides this, different other sizes both thicker & thinner all these Comptons must be executed immediately as they are wanting for an Entertainment by the Queen for which she has her work & the quantities need not be small. They may make haste.
