My dear Lady Albemarle,

I write, my dear Lady, I have greater pleasure in accommodating you myself than through any other person

L. J. de C. has been mentioning to me your fears respecting the life & Black more she gave you last year, I have so little to do if you should approve, & as it will equally serve my purpose, to send you known immediately the little Horse I bought, w^h I will answer for being perfectly good tempered & safe; by the return of the Wagon you can ^{then} send the the Hack home.

Pray tell me if you approve of the Tom to send the little animal to you w^h. I trust you will do me the kindness to accept as I am sure Tom never dots much to send beyond toward

You. I hope you are better for change of air, & that Sophia & all the children are quite well I beg give my kind love to them & my very kind regards to Mr & Mrs Spence. I beg however they offer soon. I am sure it will not be the least inconvenience to me & on the contrary a great pleasure Believe me

My dear Lady Aberdeen

Yours affly

A very sincere
