Your goodness in writing to me Dear Miss Hunt claims my best thanks as well as the little Book I promise myself much pleasure from the reading it not only as I am sure it will inculcate the Excellent principles you have told me it does, but also as it will remind me of past days. For yourself. believe me I shall never need external aid to recall you to my memory. For your good advice I feel very grateful, the justness of your several remarks struck me forcibly. As you say nothing of yourself I cannot forbear enquiring after your health particularly how you have been during the Winter for I know you would to suffer much from the Cold.

I will not intrude longer upon your time & will only add my Best Compl^{ts} to M^r. Hunt & beg you to Believe me to be

Dear Miss Hunt
Your very sincere
Charlotte
