My dear Madam -

You do me justice in believing that I should feel very strongly if it were in my power to do anything which would be to me so satisfactory. An opinion can never be formed from any property. Some of the times for obliquing in favor of them but the law must certainly just & equitable. It is impossible therefore for me to be displeas'd at. I will not scruple to be true & fair with them, & believe by so acting I shall live in their satis-faction than if I were to live happy without the power of realizing them.

Love & respect wholly assured of which my establishment is to be that I have every reason to believe it will be limited, & makes out to offer little chance to my use to the objections. I believe however my inclinations might lead me to join them; added to which my approaching marriage with the Princess of Orange, naturally makes my plans uncertain. My own wife believes me sincerely desirous of the necessity of leaving this & that my wife has assured me that she would have been the same had it in my power to become even to him as to his father & family. I am

Believe me however
Dear Madam
Yours truly
James Oglethorpe
